Cease-Fire Ordered in Port Said Area
Joint U. S.-Soviet Action Urged in Egypt

Reds Urge Surrender, Withdrawal to Follow

Vienna, Nov. 5 (P)—Radio Budapest broadcast a demand today that remaining Hungarian rebel fighters give up their arms by 6 p. m. (12 noon EST).
It appeared probable the rebels, their ranks thinned by the lightning attacks of Russian tanks and infantry, had already switched from organized battle lines to partisan warfare.
The Budapest station, again firmly under Russian control, sought to win over Hungarians with all sorts of promises of political and economic reforms.
Must Restore Order
"First it is necessary to restore order," it warned. "The Soviet troops will be withdrawn only after order has been restored."
The new regime, it said, will start negotiations for the withdrawal after peace returns.
The Soviet high command appealed to Hungarian army officers and men to join in crushing the rebellion.
A large part of the Hungarian army eagerly went over to the Taxpayers Opposing Salary Raises for Ulster Officials

A move in opposition to proposed salary increases for town of Ulster officers is reported brewing in the township.
The Taxpayers Association and a number of individuals are urging residents of the township to attend a public hearing on the budget at 8 p. m. Wednesday at the town garage at which time the following salaries will be proposed:
Supervisor, $4,000; justice of the peace (total salaries), $5,500; councilman (total salaries), $2,400; town clerk, $3,640; town superintendent $4,200; town assessors (total salaries), $5,000; collector of taxes, $1,800, and town attorney, $5,000.
There are two justices of the peace, two councilmen and three assessors in the township.
Notice of the hearing was advertised in The Freeman last Friday signed by Laura K. Every, town clerk.
William Kolts, a resident of the township, one of the group opposing the proposed schedule, urged residents of the town to attend the hearing. He suggested that they plan to be present about 7:30 p. m. The meeting of the town board is scheduled for 8 p. m.

Eight Area Residents Are Cited in New York by CYO

Seven volunteer workers from Kingston and one from Saugerties were cited for their interest in promotion of the Catholic Youth Organization at special services Sunday in Cathedral High School, New York city.
According to Leo A. Schupp, Ulster county CYO director, residents of the area who received the medallions were:
For two or more years of service—Mrs. Mary Mehm, Immaculate Conception Church; Raymond Schaezel, St. Peter's; William Sill, St. Joseph's; John Spada, St. Mary's, all of Kingston; and Henry Montano, St. Mary's, Saugerties.
For five or more years of service—Mrs. Peggy Bujak, Immaculate Conception Church; Mrs. Gertrude Graney, St. Mary's, and Mrs. Bertha McDonough, St. Peter's, all of Kingston.
The New York program climaxed National CYO Week observance in the New York Archdiocese to present awards to volunteer workers in its eight counties.
In presenting the awards, Msgr. Harold E. Engel, archdiocesan director of the CYO, told the volunteer workers they provide the adult friendship and good example that youngsters need during the turbulent period of adolescence.

WWThreat Is Seen By Bulganin
Premier Asks UN Backing of Move

London, Nov. 5 (P)—The Soviet Union called tonight for joint American-Soviet military intervention — backed by the United Nations—to stop British-French "aggression" in the Middle East.
Sends Message to U. S.
Premier Nikolai Bulganin made the appeal in a message to President Eisenhower, Moscow radio reported.
"If this war is not stopped, it contains the danger of turning into a third world war," Moscow also announced that Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov had sent a message to the United Nations Security Council urging it to render military and other aid to Egypt.
Bulganin's letter said:
"The United States has a strong navy in the zone of the Mediterranean. The Soviet Union too has a strong navy and a powerful air force."
Proposes Joint Action
"The joint and immediate use of these means by the United States and the Soviet Union, backed by a United Nations decision, would be a sure guarantee of ending the aggression against the Egyptian people and the people of the Arab East."
The Soviet Premier's message was reported only a short time after Moscow announced receipt of a letter from President Eisenhower.

Stresses Support In Time of Peril

Newburgh, N. Y., Nov. 5 (P)—Gov. Averell Harriman says all Americans should support the policies of the President in times of peril. That applies, he added, regardless of who wins tomorrow's election.
The Democratic governor said he based his appeal on the need for united support of America's role as leader of the free world.
Harriman spoke yesterday after a parade of Orange county Catholic Youth Organizations.
Harriman, a former ambassador to Moscow, said news of the Soviet armed intervention in Hungary is "tragic."
"A new dictatorship has snuffed out personal freedoms for the time being," he said.

Farmhouse Razed By Modena Fire, 2 Families Routed

Fire destroyed a large farmhouse about a mile and a quarter south of Modena early Sunday morning, routing two farm families from their sleep.
Origin of the blaze was reportedly in the chimney of the large frame dwelling owned by Mrs. Edith Powell of Modena.
Two families of farm employees, including several children, were removed to the Methodist parsonage in Modena.
The entire contents of the house, including all worldly possessions of the occupants, were lost, it was reported.
Volunteers from four fire companies managed to prevent the

IBM Open House Draws 40,000 Here Saturday

Visitors estimated at 40,000 from all parts of Ulster county and the Hudson valley attended the "Open House of the IBM Kingston plant, Boice's Lane and Neighborhood road, Saturday from 10 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.
Seven entrances were open to the public at locations convenient to parking areas. As visitors entered they were given brochures of welcome. The brochure contained a block layout of the plant so that visitors might choose their own tour routes to see all areas of the Military Products and Electric Typewriter Divisions.
Employees of both divisions acted as hosts to explain engineering, manufacturing and administration operations. Many displays were on view.
Visitors to the Military Products Division also saw the test areas where the SAGE Computer, the world's fastest, is assembled and tested for the United States Air Force. An additional feature was the continued showing throughout the day of a special film, Countermeasures, which explained the workings of the Airborne Computer Laboratory of the MPD, and the SAGE system.
The Electric Typewriter Division provided the public with an opportunity to view the entire assembly line where more electric typewriters are produced than elsewhere in the world; machining and engineering operations also were explained.
Among those present from IBM to welcome visitors was C. F. McElwain, general manager of the IBM Military Products Division. Others who participated were: Robert P. Crago, general manager of the Kingston Military Products Division; Richard J. Whalen, assistant general manager Kingston MPD; and Clair F. Vough, works manager, Electric Typewriter Division.
IBM employees also had the first opportunity since the plant was opened in February, 1955, to take their families through the plant. Also open to the public were the IBM engineering operations at the Grand Street Building, the former Bowlorium, at 27 Grand street, Kingston.

Ike Looks Easy Winner in State

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 5 (P)—President Eisenhower looked like an easy winner in New York state this election eve—with votes enough to carry Att. Gen. Jacob K. Javits through a down-to-the-wire race for the U. S. Senate.
While Eisenhower was expected to walk off with the state's 45 electoral votes, Javits was locked in a bitter struggle with New York's Mayor Robert F. Wagner that could wind up in a photo finish.
The outbreak of warfare in the Middle East complicated the picture, especially in polygot New York city, where the Republican nominee figured to bite into the heavy Jewish vote that went to the retiring Democratic senator, 78-year-old Herbert H. Lehman.
The late consensus in both political camps was that Javits had lost a lot of ground with the Jewish vote because of his support of the Eisenhower administration's policies toward Israel.
Javits said yesterday that, if elected, he would go to Israel.
He did not go into detail about the proposed trip.
Javits' pledge of personal action in the Israeli crisis was reminiscent of President Eisenhower's 1952 campaign pledge to go to Korea, then a world trouble spot.
Mayor Wagner said Javits' promise was "a last minute grandstand play and surely nobody is going to be fooled."
Republican leaders maintained that Javits' losses because of GOP policy on Israel were far from fatal. Most political experts agreed the attorney general still could ride into the Senate on the strength of Eisenhower's popularity.
The president figured to roll up a heavy plurality, although not as large as the 848,000 margin he posted in 1952. Educated guesses placed the figure around the half-million mark.
However the Democrats are

Ike May Win 4-1 Electoral Vote; Congressional Race to Be Close

Washington, Nov. 5 (P)—If some of the country's best qualified political observers are correct, President Eisenhower should get four times as many electoral votes as Adlai Stevenson, but the battle for congress could go either way.
Those results were subject, of course, to the possible error inherent in all such studies as well as to potential sharp, last-minute shifts of voter sentiment resulting from overseas developments.
A check among political observers, writers and party leaders in the 48 states showed this election eve that they consider Eisenhower ahead in 32 states with a combined electoral college vote of 332, Stevenson ahead in 8 states altogether, and 8 states doubtful with 127.
Of the 8 doubtful states, 5 were indicated as leaning toward Eisenhower with a combined vote of 98. One was inclined toward Stevenson with 13. The others, with a total vote of 16, were left in the air by conflicting claims and judgments.
Toted up on this basis the count was: Eisenhower 420, Stevenson 95, undecided 16.
In 1952 Eisenhower defeated Stevenson by 442 to 89.
It takes 266 for election—a majority of the 531 total.
Reports to the Associated Press indicated Democratic state tickets were expected to fare better than the party's national slate. Even so, a possibility was seen that congressional races might be so close as to require a day or so to determine finally which party will control Congress.
The Democrats do now, 49-47 in the Senate and 230-201 in the House with four vacancies. They took it away from the Republicans in 1954 after two years of GOP leadership.
Third party movements were having little or no effect on the elections. But there were isolated instances, as in Kentucky and Utah.
In Kentucky the States Rights Democrats drew about 10,000 votes in 1948. Some believed they might do as well this year. In Utah a "Citizens for Lee" outfit was backing J. Bracken Lee, seeking an unprecedented third term as governor. He was accorded a chance against the Republican who beat him in the primary and against the Democratic nominee.
There were a half dozen or so other gubernatorial contests kicking up dust.
The Democrat was in the lead in Massachusetts, which has a Republican governor. The Democrat was rated an outside chance to upset the Republican in New Hampshire. In Rhode Island the Democratic governor faced a rugged battle with his Republican opponent. Wisconsin, Iowa, Colorado and Washington were having close races.
In West Virginia Republicans figured they had their best chance since 1928 to elect a governor. In Kansas it was the other way around, with Democrats pinning their hopes on a GOP split to break a decades-long Republican monopoly on the statehouse.
A regional breakdown on opinion about the outcome of the presidential race left Stevenson with no electoral votes outside the south-border states.
The observers credited Eisenhower with such prizes as New York's 45 electoral votes and California's 32, while Pennsylvania which also has 32 was listed as doubtful but inclining toward Eisenhower.
Another big state listed as questionable, with Eisenhower having it a shade his way, was Michigan, with 20 votes.
Missouri, with 13 votes once counted securely in Stevenson's camp, was labeled a tossup. The main reason seemed to be that the Middle East and European war scare had attracted some voters toward Eisenhower, but it still was considered to lean in Stevenson's direction.
The three others called doubtful, with Eisenhower slightly favored, were Texas which has 24 votes, Virginia 12, and Kentucky, 10.
The two left undecided were Oklahoma and West Virginia, each of which has 8 electoral votes.
Stevenson's 8 states, with a total of 82 votes, included Arkansas, Louisiana, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia, North Carolina, and South Carolina.

Chance Looks Good Bridge Will Open on December 15

Opening of the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge on the tentative date, December 15, depends entirely on weather conditions but there apparently is a good chance of that goal being reached.
There remains about 1,500 feet of roadway pavement to be laid before the 7,800 foot job is completed.
At the field office of Dr. David B. Steinman, consulting engineer for the Bridge Authority, it was stated today the contractor was doing "everything possible" to have the pavement completed on time.
Last week bad weather hampered the work and about 250 feet of the three lane pavement was laid. It is hoped an additional 500 feet can be laid this week, weather permitting, and the balance completed in time to permit for the opening "curing" in time for the opening on December 15.
Pavement is being laid from the east and west ends of the structure but the program this week calls for placing of pavement on the eastern side. All three lanes of pavement is laid at one operation covering the full width of the roadway.
Clear weather with above freezing temperature is necessary and in this condition holds for the next couple of weeks, the contractor is expected to complete the job since the work is now progressing more rapidly in good weather. After the pavement is completed there will remain considerable "cleaning up" to do before the bridge can be opened, the engineering office reported.
State Chairman Michael H. Prendergast said last night that local party leaders had reported a trend that was "mounting at present which makes all previous polls unreliable." He predicted victory for Wagner and Stevenson in New York state.
L. Judson Morhouse, the GOP chairman, was completing a canvass of county chairmen today and was slated to issue a forecast on that basis. Morhouse in the past has predicted a million-vote plurality.
Besides voting for President and U. S. Senator, the approximately seven million New Yorkers who will go to the polls tomorrow will choose a complete delegation to Congress, an entire state legislature and numerous local officials.
Republicans have a wide margin in the congressional delegation, 26 to 17, and a fat margin in the state legislature.

Inspection Tour Conducted by Mayor To See Repaired Streets, Facilities

A tour of public works facilities and of repaired streets completed under what Mayor Frederick H. Stang said is "the most comprehensive street program we've ever had," was made Saturday by the mayor, other city officials, members of business groups, the Chamber of Commerce, Kingston Civic Association, press and radio representatives.
The group toured 14 streets which were repaired during the summer. Work was done on the full length of eight of the streets and one, Abel street, was repaired in part by contract.
Whalen, chief operator in charge. Equipment used in the summer is stored in the quonset unit during the winter and winter-used equipment is kept there each summer. Other equipment and supplies are also stored there, and during the winter reinforced concrete guide rail posts are made in the building.
Also inspected was the Harding avenue sewer pumping station which pumps sewage from the lower Roosevelt Park section into a force main and subsequently into a main line at O'Neil street and Foxhall avenue, continuing on to Wilbur

Egyptians Discussing Surrender
Nasser Position Called Precarious

London, Nov. 5 (P)—Waves of British and French parachutists landed in the Port Said area at the north end of the Suez canal today. Within hours, the British announced, the Egyptian commander there began discussing surrender terms with the invaders. A cease-fire was declared.
A communiqué (No. 23) issued by the high command said:
"A cease-fire has been ordered in Port Said. Brig. Butler, commander of the Allied parachute regiment, is now discussing surrender terms with the governor and the Egyptian military commander."
Cheered by Commons
The cease-fire was announced to cheers in the House of Commons by Prime Minister Eden.
The developments meant the situation of Egyptian President Nasser was becoming more precarious by the hour. Last week the Egyptians lost their vast Sinai peninsula, east of the canal, to invading Israeli forces.
The announced purpose of the British-French invasion is to safeguard the canal—now closed to shipping—and to separate the belligerents in the Israeli-Egyptian fighting. The British say they are willing to turn over control of the canal area to UN forces, once the situation is stabilized.
Paratroopers Land
The parachute troops landed in the canal zone only 4 months and 22 days after the British surrendered to Egypt the military bases they long had occupied there. In the meantime, on July 26, Nasser nationalized the Suez Canal.
The invasion came shortly after the UN General Assembly, seeking to restore peace in both Hungary and the Middle East, ordered an international police command set up to establish and supervise a cease-fire in Egypt.
The British and French governments had gone ahead with

Yule Seal Sale Opens Nov. 15th

The 50th annual Christmas Seal Sale will open this year on Nov. 15, sponsored by the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association.
Sale of Christmas Seals has always been met in a most generous manner by the people of Ulster county. The success of the sale is most important to the people of the county and the health program which is carried on through the funds derived from the seals.
Of the funds collected 82 per cent is kept in the county to provide for the carrying out of the local program.
Included in the program is promotion of mass chest X-ray service, rehabilitation program for patients at the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital, health education, mental health, medical research, closer cooperation with Heart Chapter and other health and welfare agencies.
Robert S. Russell of Saugerties is the general chairman of the 1956 Christmas Seal Sale.

Three Area Scout Troops Attend Halloween Party

Three area Boy Scout troops participated in a Halloween party Wednesday at Jewish Community Center, Wall street.

Participating were Troop 16, St. Peter's Episcopal Church of Stone Ridge; Troop 12, Old Dutch Church and the hosts, Troop 5 of B'nai B'rith.

Troop 5's regular meeting room was decorated for the occasion with pumpkins carved by the Scouts and other Halloween decorations. The costumed Scouts arriving at the meeting rooms were ushered to their seats by Robert J. Baird, dressed as a black witch.

Narration Heard

Ray Gallagher, explorer advisor of Troop 16 served as narrator and started the program by recalling various ogres of literature he had known as a youth. Skillfully applied theatrical make-up brought to life Dr. Fu Man Chu portrayed by Ralph Shapiro, scoutmaster of Troop 12; County Dracula, the fire-spitter by Carlton Deyo, scoutmaster of Troop 16; the hunchback of Notre Dame by Elmore Yallum, scoutmaster of Troop 5 and Norman Tierney, assistant scoutmaster of Troop 12 a body-less head. William Steuding came as Frankenstein's monster. An apple-bobbing contest was held.

Costume winners were Tony Fiore, Troop 12, funniest; Robert Burnett, Troop 12, ugliest; Richard Wright, Troop 16, best disguise and William Ferguson, Troop 12 most original.

Richard Stewart, explorer advisor of Post 12 narrated "The Burning of Dan McGrew." Following the program refreshments were served.

Sound effects throughout the evening were supervised by Norman Shapiro assisted by Mrs. Richard Stewart. Sheldon Price, assistant scoutmaster of Troop 5 recorded the event on film.

Open Adventist Christian Center In New York City

Seventh-day Adventists will open a Christian center in the Times Square area early in November, it was announced this week by Ernest L. Branson, president of the church's Greater New York Conference.

Opening ceremonies for the New York Center in its completely renovated building at 227 West 46th street have been set for November 10 to 15.

The Rev. Reuben R. Figuhr, world president of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church will be the guest speaker at the opening service, November 10 at 3:45 p. m. The service will be attended by several members from the Kingston church.

To Unveil Painting

"Christ of the City," a painting by Harry Anderson, commissioned especially for the center, will be unveiled at the opening. The six-story building has had a face lifting and extensive remodeling to provide a main auditorium with a capacity of 900 and many smaller halls, chapels and classrooms.

The facilities will be used to offer a wide variety of programs and services to people of all faiths—both New Yorkers and out-of-town visitors who come to Times Square.

The center staff is headed by Joseph N. Barnes, director. Other members will supervise particular phases of the program, such as adult education, community services, health education and youth activities.

Chile ranks second to the United States in the production of borax.

Now Is the Time To Winterize Trees

Shade trees should be winterized now. Storm-proof them before winter's ice, wind and snow storms arrive. It is less costly than repairing them after damage is done, according to F. A. Bartlett Tree Expert Co.

Prune, cable and brace trees to prevent limbs from breaking, splitting or shattering, says O. W. Spicer, president of the Bartlett tree experts.

Prune out all dead and diseased wood. Remove closely crowded branches and those that rub against each other. Cut back abnormally long ones. Eliminate limbs that hang dangerously over a house, garage or sidewalk. If a tree is too tall, it can be headed back 10-15 feet without loss of symmetry.

Sugar maples, willows and elms have a tendency to form V-crotches. Cable and bolt them to prevent them from being split by powerful winds or weight of ice and snow. Cable long-span branches so they will not snap off in a howling wind.

Feed trees to develop a better root system and hence a more secure anchorage. The older and taller a tree becomes the greater is the need for a sturdy anchorage. Trees can be made to grow deep roots by placing tree food 18-24 inches deep in the soil. The roots will seek it out.

Church Work

Greenville, Miss. (AP)—Grace Methodist Church had $53 and its congregation had sore muscles, back kinks and sunburned faces and hands to prove the members would work for their church. The congregation picked 1,700 pounds of cotton on a nearby farm and donated the proceeds to the church building fund.

Tobin Is Named KC Scholarship Exam Supervisor

James E. Tobin, guidance director of Kingston High School was selected as one of two area supervisors for the annual Knights of Columbus scholarship examination January 19, according to Robert E. Corlis of Poughkeepsie, vice-chairman of District F.

The other designated was Vincent O'Connor, administrative assistant at C. B. Warring School, Poughkeepsie. The exam center for Ulster county will be Kingston High School, for Dutchess county, St. Mary's School, 26 South Hamilton street, Poughkeepsie.

Helped Build Program

According to Mr. Corlis these two men have done tremendous jobs in the building of this program for a number of years. Mr. Tobin, prominent in educational and civic projects for many years, is a member of Kingston Council, Knights of Columbus and has long been recognized for his outstanding work with youth in the Ulster county area.

Deadline for applications will be December 1 and may be obtained in all high schools or at the local council of the Knights of Columbus.

LOCAL REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES

The tumult and the shouting of this 1956 political campaign are over and we believe that the voters of Ulster County will separate fact from fiction when they visit the polls on Tuesday.

Locally, this election has been a quiet one with the exception of the campaign for the office of assemblyman.

The Democratic candidate charged that Assemblyman Wilson voted against a motion to discharge a Democratic bill to increase sickness-disability benefits from $33 to $40 a week and to do nothing more. What he fails to mention is that a week before this motion was made, all Republicans voted for and passed a bill which not only increased benefits from $33 to $40 a week but extended the benefit period from 13 to 20 weeks.

There was also the charge that Assemblyman Wilson voted against discharging from committee, a bill which would have appropriated $2 million for disaster aid. But the Democratic candidate conveniently and willfully omitted these facts:

That the Republican Legislature passed a Republican bill which would have provided a method for flood relief (but Harri-man vetoed the bill).

That Assemblyman Wilson, who is falsely accused of voting to keep the Democrat bill in committee, was, in fact, the introducer through the Rules Committee, of a compromise bill which Governor Harri-man signed.

That although this bill appropriated $1,500,000 for flood relief the Harri-man administration has actually paid out (as of October 24, 1956) only $206,935.42 of the $1,500,000 which the Legislature made available.

That, of a group of disaster aid claims disclosed by the Department of Public Works on September 13, totaling $261,707.28, eighty-nine per cent were claims of the City of New York totaling $232,554. However, these claims were listed under the name of the upstate counties such as Westchester and Ulster simply because the New York City reservoirs which the City claims were damaged by last year's floods are located in those counties. This did not leave very much spent in upstate municipalities.

The two other offices to be filled this year in Ulster County are those of judge of the surrogate court and sheriff. Charles H. Gaffney and Claude Bell, the Republican candidates for the office of surrogate and sheriff, respectively are eminently qualified to hold those important positions.

The democratic process which is the basis of our life of dignity and freedom depends on the full participation of a great majority of the electorate.

Voting is a privilege. It is also a duty. In going to the polls, the citizen reaffirms and strengthens democracy. So do your part.

NEED AT CHRISTMAS

If the predictions are correct, more people in this country are going to receive more expensive Christmas gifts this year than ever before. Merchants figure on riding the crest of an unprecedented wave of luxury buying.

The trend is well established in many lines. Though house building as a whole has dropped somewhat, bigger and more expensive houses are selling well. The highest priced automobiles are being snapped up. The top-quality items in a wide variety of other goods are selling best.

One's first impulse might be to hail this as another sign of America's great and widespread prosperity. It is that, without question. But this abundance carries with it an obligation to share. Even in the richest country on earth, there is human need. Most of us could do more to help such need. That is something to remember, also, as the time for Christmas buying approaches.

It turns out the Russians didn't originate vodka. Next thing, someone will discover the hot dog and apple pie aren't native dishes. It's an uncertain world, all right.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
INEVITABLE

What Great Britain and France faced as a result of the emergence of Nasser as the Egyptian Hitler was national suicide. The United States faced nothing more grave than the nationalization of American oil companies in Arabian countries. Soviet Russia faced the possibility of establishing itself in the Mediterranean. India faced the possibility of increasing its scope as the leader of the Bandung nations.

It has been known since July when Nasser seized the Universal Suez Canal Company that Great Britain and France would have to do something specific and dramatic to save their place among nations. Under the pressure of American anti-colonialism, both were losing their place in the world, whereas Soviet Russia was emerging as the principal power on Earth.

Nasser had dedicated himself to the establishment of an Arabic Empire with himself at its head and had formed an alliance with Soviet Russia. Did the West have to wait until Nasser had achieved his goal? Was Cairo to be another Munich? Was Eden to be a second Chamberlain?

During the Suez Canal conferences, the British and the French followed John Foster Dulles' schemes for a Users' Association only to discover that what Dulles really meant was the development of a mechanism for further negotiations with Nasser.

It is true that when their scheme was hatched to do by force what could no longer be achieved by talk, they did not only not consult their ally, the United States, but they gave the United States no information. But that is no reason why we should not have been informed. After all, much of what developed had to be overt and this country spends hundreds of millions on an espionage organization to get at covert information. However, the truth undoubtedly is, as the President said, that we knew nothing of the joint action of Israel, France and Great Britain against Nasser.

It is startling to discover that our principal allies, Great Britain and France, do not trust the government of the United States with their plans not only because their plans differ from ours but also because they have found that somehow we always support the underdog even if he is as rabid as Nasser. It is not easily forgotten that Holland lost her East Indian Empire, France, her North African Empire, Great Britain, India and Suez because of American policies pursued since the time of Woodrow Wilson. We are not, for the moment, discussing what is right or wrong but that the United States has frightened these countries by a doctrinaire pacifism and a tendency to appease Soviet Russia, Nehru of India and now Nasser of Egypt.

The United States has its fill in the Korean War and its attitude is naturally different from that of Great Britain and France. Nevertheless, no one can or does question that these have been Nasser's objectives:

1. To establish an Arabic Empire with himself at its head extending over the whole of North Africa and including Jordan, Syria and eventually Iraq and Saudi Arabia;
2. To eliminate all Western influences from Africa and Arabia Asia;
3. To exterminate Israel;
4. To maintain an alliance with Soviet Russia aimed at the West;
5. Absolute control of the Suez Canal;
6. Elimination of the West from Arabian oil fields.

The West includes the United States. It is the American assumption that Nasser can be destroyed by economic pressures. It is the British and French assumption that he cannot be. If the British and French are correct, it would be too late to prove that the Americans are incorrect, because by that time, Nasser would be so strong that nothing could budge him. Therefore the British and the French acted before action became futile. Their objectives are:

1. To prevent the Soviet Union from expanding into Arabic countries until at least Egypt and possibly some other Arabian countries became part of the Soviet bloc;
2. To safeguard Middle Eastern oil upon which Western Europe has become dependent;
3. To preserve the Suez Canal for the use of all nations in accordance with the 1888 Convention;
4. To preserve Israel as a nation in accordance with the decision of the United Nations establishing that country.

This program undoubtedly the United States supports; the quarrel is over method. The method employed before Israel, Great Britain and France hit out at Nasser only strengthened that imitator of Hitler.

That Body of Yours

Occupational Stress and Emotional Illness

We are all familiar with the frequency with which "overwork" is blamed for both mental and physical ills but just how correct is this diagnosis? In the Journal of the American Medical Association, Dr. Jackson Black, University of Nebraska College of Medicine, reports the results of a survey of 91 patients seen for psychiatric consultation over a four-year period. Stress caused by the individual's occupation was considered a precipitating factor in the emotional illness. "In the professional (and even more among the laity) 'overwork' is ranked next to injury to the head as an infant as a beginning cause in mental illness; these ideas persist in spite of a lack of substantiating reports in medical literature."

Fifty-four of the patients in this series were referred for private consultation and the remaining 37 were employees of one large industrial organization. What was found? Eighty-four of these patients (or 93 per cent) had difficulties that were not directly related to the work itself but rather resulted from conflicts with other employees, an illness in another employee doing the same type of work, or a pre-existing tension state that led to the patient's acquiring many undue obligations for himself. Nine patients had symptoms typical of conversion hysteria (a process by which emotions become transformed into physical symptoms) after an injury while at work. In only seven patients could the emotional ills be directly attributed to the work itself.

The majority of this group (48) had symptoms that resulted from disagreement with their immediate supervisor. Except for the wording, the complaints were the same whether the patient was one of the less important vice-presidents of a national concern, a secretary in a large office, or a section hand doing manual labor for a railroad. These patients would be described as having an anxiety reaction and showed certain similarities of response and behavior.

What were these patients like? In general, they disliked argument or any outward expression of anger or hostility; they were conscientious and acutely aware of their responsibilities in their work and to their families. They were inclined to persist in their work in spite of the unpleasantness rather than face the insecurity and change of routine that finding other employment would cause. Their behavior was consistent in that they showed the same type of behavior in their home as at work, which not infrequently led to their being imposed upon.

Usually the trouble began when a new supervisor at any level was hired who believed the most efficient method of obtaining production was to constantly demand and never praise. The technique would vary from the foreman who shouted at his men and was abusive, sarcastic to the equally irritating general manager who checked every detail of every department and found some item worthy of criticism but none of praise. We all know that a "pat on the back" is appreciated and the employer, supervisor, or other person who has authority over others should always keep this in mind. A person quite often remains in a job when he could better himself financially elsewhere, because he feels that his work is appreciated where he is and feels that such appreciation more than make up for the lesser income he derives from his work.

Curtain Call

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington — (NEA) — Reviewing Democratic presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson's campaign on the eve of election is a political must for the intelligent voter, whether he intends to vote for the former Illinois governor or not.

Stevenson started off like a whirlwind by taking the nomination away from New York Gov. Averell Harriman—in spite of ex-President Harry Truman. Stevenson emerged as undisputed head of the Democratic party. He had the opportunity to exercise real leadership.

In his acceptance speech calling for "a new America" in which "poverty is abolished" and "freedom is made real," Stevenson outlined the main issues of his campaign.

He rejected President Eisenhower's health as an issue and took in its place Eisenhower's record as president.

Stevenson declared the Eisenhower administration had at last "swallowed the New Deal" after fighting it 20 years. Then he charged that the Republicans have tried to manipulate the minds of Americans with shows, slogans and advertising and have given the country only propaganda for peace and a personality cult in place of real leadership.

IN HIS CAMPAIGN speeches Stevenson has hit every issue—the shortage of schools and teachers, the need for greater health protection, relief for depressed areas, raising the standards of low income groups, the difficulties of small business, liberalization of labor legislation, the so-called favoritism to big business, the alleged unethical conduct of a number of Eisenhower administration appointees allowed to resign. And when the Middle East fighting broke out, Stevenson was able to charge diplomatic failure.

In Arkansas Stevenson took a courageous stand on civil rights and segregation, and was acclaimed for it.

On foreign affairs, Stevenson pointed out that the situations in Korea and Indochina are by no means settled. The problems of Middle-East are even worse. Relations with Britain, France and other European allies are disrupted. And no progress has been made on improving relations with Soviet Russia.

IN THE CLOSING weeks of the campaign, however, Stevenson has tried to focus interest on his proposals to end the hydrogen bomb tests and the peace-time draft.

This has tended to throw the campaign off balance.

Desirable as both steps might be from an idealistic standpoint, from a practical standpoint they have been open to criticism because they would tend to weaken U. S. national defense. Also, from a political standpoint there is some question even among Democrats as to how good these issues are as vote-getters.

In spite of a much more aggressive campaign than he waged four years ago, Stevenson's speeches this year have been a disappointment to many of his most ardent supporters.

One of the great Stevenson failings this year may have been a tendency toward overstatement. In the mad scramble for something to attract voters and conduct a "Give 'em hell" campaign, a lot of things may have been uttered by the Democratic candidate which he would not have said in calmer moments or if he had been an official inside the government with access to better staff advice.

U. S. Poll Puts Ike in Again By Landslide Electoral Vote

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 5—Here is the latest election forecast as derived from a poll of editors of the newspapers of every state in the Union conducted by letter and telegram in the last few days by this correspondent:

1. A landslide of electoral votes for President Eisenhower—about 374 to 157.
2. Reduced margins in many states as compared with 1952, but the possibility of increased margins in a few states, because of strength being shown by Mr. Eisenhower in the cities. This pattern is noticeable in all sections of the country, including the South.
3. An increase in Eisenhower margins in the cities due to women's votes and to a larger share of votes in labor-union families than four years ago.

STEVENSON'S most constructive approach to the campaign may be found in his series of written statements, detailing his program for the new America.

Four of them, on education, health, old-age assistance and an economic program, came out promptly.

But they were so long and so difficult to get into general circulation that their effect on the election is doubtful.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Chicago, Nov. 4 — Ed F. Stumpf, the editor of the West Palm Beach Post, recently wired me that many readers there would like to see, before November 6, Walter Reuther's letter from Russia advocating "a Soviet America" (written with and signed jointly by his brother, Victor). Inasmuch as Reuther is Adlai Stevenson's chief henchman in the AFL-CIO job-monopoly and has been eulogized by Eleanor Roosevelt, Senator Lehman, Chester Bowles and others of that baffling stripe, this information is appropriate to the hour although it probably would make no difference in the political decision of any appreciable number of voters.

The letter allowed me to obtain the letter from my file and transmit it may have been too short. That seems unimportant because Stevenson and Kefauver apparently are doomed at this writing. However, for future reference, here is the text, somewhat abbreviated, as provided by Dr. J. B. Matthews and published in the "Printed Hearings" of the Old Dies Committee on un-American activities:

"Jan. 21, 1934. Dear Mel and Glad: It seems ages since we heard from you. Because you are anxious to receive word from the 'workers' fatherland' I am taking this first opportunity to answer you. What you have written concerning strikes and general labor unrest in Detroit plus what we have learned from other sources of the rising discontent of the American workers makes us long for the moment to be back with you in the front lines of our struggle. However the daily inspiration as we work side by side with our Russian comrades, the thought that we are actually helping to build a society that will forever end the exploitation of man by man, the thought that what we are building will be for the enjoyment of the working class not only of Russia but of the entire world, is compensation for our temporary absence from the struggle in the United States.

"And let no one tell you that we are not on the road to socialism in the Soviet Union. Let no one say the workers of the Soviet socialist republics are not on the road to security, enlightenment and happiness. Mel, you and Wal (Walter Reuther) and I (Victor Reuther) were always strong to defend it against the lies of reactionaries. But we are watching a backward peasantry being transformed into an enlightened democratic, cultured populus.

"Here the workers, through their militant leadership, the proletarian dictatorship, have not sold out to the owning class like the socialist party in Germany and the Labor party in England. Here, against famine, internal strike, civil war, sabotage, capitalist invasion and isolation, our comrades have maintained power, they have won over the masses, they have transformed the 'dark masses' of Soviet Russia into energetic, enlightened workers. They have transformed the Soviet Union into one of the greatest industrial nations in the world. In our factory, one of the largest and most modern in Europe there are no pictures of Fords and Rockefellers or Roosevelts and Mellon. No such parasites but rather pictures of Lenin etc. greeting the workers eyes. Red banners with slogans 'Workers of the World Unite' are draped across the cranes."

The whole text runs to three pages of single space. Matthews first saw it when Roy Reuther, brother of Walter and Victor Reuther, handed it to him at a meeting in Flint, Mich., when Matthews was a "fellow-traveler." Matthews says Roy was a Trotskyite who strung along with Dave Dubinsky's present henchmen, Jay Lovestone and Irving Brown, as they cried for blood in the American gutters. According to Matthews, Roy was disappointed in his brothers because they followed the Stalin line.

Later, many copies of the same letter were struck off by mimeograph and Matthews provided such a reproduction to the committee for its published official records. Walter and Victor Reuther vaguely claimed that their text had been altered, but they never specified how. The "Mel and Glad" to whom the original was addressed were friends in Michigan.

The famous tag-line which for years has been flung at "Vic and Wal," was "carry on the fight for a Soviet America."

After 18 months in the "workers' fatherland" Vic and Wal came back and went straight to Detroit in the fall of 1935 where, as Matthews later wrote, they immediately went to work organizing the sitdown strikes, a Communist technique first tried in France under Premier Leon Blum.

Eleanor Roosevelt, Senator Lehman, and of course Adlai Stevenson have known all about this letter for years. They are thoroughly versed in the bloody insurrection in Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania and other industrial states which gave Reuther the power which he now exerts in the interest of their party and his own revolutionary program to make "a Soviet America."

It will be noted how few states outside of the South and border states contain any "certain" votes for Mr. Stevenson. It will be observed also that, even where there appears to be a sharp difference of opinion as between "certain" and "leaning," Mr. Eisenhower could lose Pennsylvania, Washington, Minnesota and Michigan—seventy-two votes—and yet be elected, whereas Mr. Stevenson is uncertain of Texas and Virginia, which gave him thirty-six votes in the above table.

The editors of the country underestimated Mr. Eisenhower's electoral strength in the same kind of poll conducted four years ago. They gave him 357 and he got 442. They gave him 374 this year, but he again may get more than predicted.

SIGNAL TO SELL?

Invariably, any untoward event in the social, economic or political life of America brings selling into the stock market. We are a volatile people. We buy common stocks when the economic skies are cloudless and the sun is shining brightly. We sell them when dark clouds gather even for a day or two. That is why price forecasting is usually so futile.

In 1933, America went off the gold standard. Shares were dumped for no reason at all. The morning after Congress abandoned gold, a customers' woman with important social connections and hence in control of much capital went to her office two hours before the stock market opened. In a torrent of words, she advised her clients to take such action as this: "My dear, we have gone off the gold standard! The stock market will have a crash! Sell all of your stocks today!"

I listened to this for an hour, during which she must have telephoned 20 people. Finally, I asked her: "Do you understand why America has abandoned gold?"

She had no idea. She was acting on the advice of someone who didn't understand either. After I explained to her that this action was taken to halt deflation and to reflate the price level, she asked: "What should I tell them?"

Buy, Not Sell

I told her that her clients should buy stocks and not sell them. She was exactly 100 per cent wrong. Going off the gold standard was not a signal to sell but a signal to buy.

And now for several weeks by letter, telephone and telegraph and personal call, I have been asked this question a hundred times or more: "Should I sell all of my stocks before the election?"

Various thoughts accompany such inquiries. It is the same kind of thinking that America had in 1933 when people sold good stocks because gold was removed from circulation.

Would a Democratic victory be a signal to sell? Of course not. Why not?

If the campaign promises were put into effect in 1957, a change of administration in Washington would mean:

1. That cheap money is on the way back. A reversal of recent policies that have made money more expensive could be expected. High-grade bond and non-callable preferred stock prices would advance sharply.

2. There would be a liberalization of credit terms all along the line, making borrowing more easy and cheaper and debt paying of longer duration.

3. High rigid farm commodity price supports would be invoked.

Make Economy Boom

What would such action do to the national economy? For better or for worse, it would make it boom. Millions of people would applaud it. Thousands of marginal farmers operating on a shoe-string would have their purchasing power restored. The farm equipment and automobile industries ought to have a quick pickup in business.

And countless small businessmen, able to borrow more cheaply, would take heart and expand their operations.

Economic America is in a position where, regardless of the party in power, she must enjoy a measure of prosperity. If our well-being is not sound, then it will be based on acts and measures of expediency. If our prosperity is unsound, the dollar will suffer and so will all fixed dollar values. So, why sell good stocks? And if our prosperity is sound, common stocks are the very kind of values to possess.

Social, economic and political events of terrifying import will not cause me to sell the stocks I own for income and growth.

'Blood So Cheap'

By FRANK TRIPP

Maybe some time Uncle Sam's greed for tax money will ease to recognize a pint of human blood as a deductible gift in a donor's tax return. This is an argument to put a mite of gratitude in that harassing document.

Poet Thomas Hood lamented: "O God! that bread should be so dear, and flesh and blood so cheap!"

Blood to save lives is worse than cheap to Uncle Sam; it is worthless; he puts no value on it. His armies and hospitals beg for it, scientists, Red Cross and volunteers accumulate it, planes are commandeered to fly it, lives are saved by it.

Earnest people give freely and gladly something more valuable than gold, something without which all the wealth in the world would be worthless to mankind.

Though it is the most precious thing to human life and hard to get, the blood donor is content to know that somewhere his blood may save a life. Rarely does he think of his gift in terms of money.

But his government should. Instead, it taxes him if he sells it, allows him no tax credit when he gives it away.

IN THIS atomic day of uncertainty there could occur a civilian crisis when blood might save a whole city; else our Civil Defense precautions are over-rated.

If, in such a crisis, blood could be had only at a price, frantic legislation would create a federal budget to buy blood. A clumsy bureau would be set up, with state branches, local agencies and thousands of paid workers and hangers-on.

Or maybe a time might come when blood donors constituted an important bloc of votes, such as farmers, labor, and the like. Oh yes, the vote beggars would go to bat for blood donors then—or promise to.

BUT THIS IS NOT a tempest in behalf of the noble thousands who do and would give their blood, even if they had to pay to give. It is a plea for gratitude.

It is only justice due them that their government recognize their unselfishness as it does any other gift; and thus encourage others to give blood to the end perhaps that all of this pleading and begging for blood banks might end, or at least be minimized.

One can give money or any article to a recognized charity and deduct its value as a gift in his tax return. Yet when he gives his blood—and some give gallons at "market" values as high as $25 a pint—his government says that he has given nothing.

IN THE OPINION of one who has never given a drop, the blood donor gives his most precious possession; something that cannot be measured by market values based upon supply and demand. He gives something of himself; infinitely more than money.

His government should be proud to set a generous value upon his patriotic compassion for his fellow man and gladly recognize it as the sacrificial gift that it is.

By making the gift of blood tax deductible, as it does the dollars that one gives.

Besides, it might fill blood banks to overflowing.

"Bread so dear; blood so cheap."

Hunter Is Fair,

Shot Climbing Tree

Schenectady, N. Y., Nov. 5 (AP)—Herman L. Heise, 73, accidentally shot by his grandfather while both were hunting, was reported in fair condition today at Ellis Hospital.

Heise walked half a mile to a car after being struck in the chest and left shoulder by shotgun pellets. He was hit while climbing a tree in search of a squirrel at which he had fired.

State police said that Herman G. Heise, 78, who had been separated from the hunting party, had fired from 150 feet when he saw a movement in the tree.

Correct View Now

Mountain View, Wyo. (AP)—Residents of this little southwestern Wyoming community and the post office department have finally agreed. For years, residents of the town have spelled it "Mountain View" but the post office department has stuck to one word, "Mountainview." The post office department finally conceded. The latest postal guide spells it "Mountain View."

"I couldn't leave the house

—but that didn't stop me!

"I was doing pretty good selling tickets for our church choir concert—but then I caught cold. My dad told me to stay in the house. But I wanted to sell more tickets, so I got on the phone and called some neighbors. I had more nerve talking to them on the phone than I did when I rang doorbells. Maybe they thought I was older or something. Anyway, I sold eleven tickets that day."

Who says dream cars never come true?

Dynamite from Detroit

Coming! America's first production dream car—it will influence the shape of cars for years to come.

The old Detroit rule was to introduce new features gradually, to make little changes each year. Sometimes a new grille, an engine improvement, or new colors and trim.

We broke that rule. In fact, we broke all the rules. This is dynamite!

For you are not the only one who has dreamed of a totally modern car, a car that has everything you find at automobile shows, in illustrations, and in custom-built experimental cars.

Detroit has had that dream, too. And that's why the 1957 Mercury is the car that has honestly excited the most car-jaded, the most sophisticated of Detroit's automotive experts.

When you see the new 1957 Mercury, you'll see America's first full-production dream car—a car that will influence the shape of cars for years to come.

You'll see a dream car you can own and drive—a car that has far more than startling years-ahead beauty.

THE BIG M for '57 boasts dream-car features never before found outside a designer's dream-book: a Keyboard Control that makes ordinary push-button driving old-fashioned; an exclusive Floating Ride with a revolutionary new cushioning action you have to feel to believe. There are Mercury "firsts" everywhere you look. A Power-Booster Engine Fan in the Montclair series that saves horsepower other cars waste. And many more Mercury exclusives.

You'll see THE BIG M—the new Mercury for 1957—soon. You'll see it. You'll drive it. The first dream car that can be yours. The dynamite is on its way from Detroit to your dealer's—now!

MODENA NEWS

Modena, Nov. 2—A meeting of the Public Health Nursing Committee of the town of Plattkill will be held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Stewart Pink. Plans will be made for a card and game party to be held Tuesday, Dec. 4, at Hasbrouck Memorial hall and committees appointed for general arrangements.

Local members of Methodist Youth Fellowship held a Halloween party Saturday evening at Hasbrouck Memorial hall. On Sunday, members of the local group attended meeting of the New Paltz unit.

The hall committee met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Frank Black. In the absence of the president, Emmett Hyatt, the meeting was in charge of Vice-president Arnold Andersen. Mrs. Stewart Pink is secretary of the committee and Mrs. Lillian Courter, treasurer. The main subject of the meeting was plans for raising $400 to meet the expense of repairing the heating system in the hall. It was decided to hold a food sale Nov. 30, at the hall, from 2:30 to 3 p. m. Co-chairmen are Mrs. Burton E. Ward and Mrs. Frank M. Coy. Further information will appear at a later date.

Local relatives and friends of the late Andrew Bernard of Middletown, formerly of Modena, attended his funeral held Sunday at Montgomery, and services at the Modena Rural Cemetery. Fred Bernard of Modena, is a brother surviving.

Mr. and Mrs. William Menton and children of New York, visited friends here Sunday.

Mrs. Lester A. Wager Sr., observed a birthday Thursday, was entertained at a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester A. Wager Jr., and daughter, Judy Lynn Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Ellison, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Baker and family have vacated the farm house of Harold Lucy, south of Modena, on Route 32. The Ellisons moved to West Park, the Bakers moved to Clintondale.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson G. Hedges attended an anniversary dinner at the Ireland Corners Hotel Saturday evening when the children of Mr. and Mrs. John Neuwirth of Wallkill honored them by giving them a turkey dinner. The occasion was the 30th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Neuwirth. Mrs. Neuwirth is the former Oleta Hedges, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Orson Hedges of Plattkill. Forty-eight guests attended the dinner.

Mrs. Lester I. Arnold assisted by Mrs. Lillian Courter is canvassing for the Chest X-ray, to be conducted this weekend in southern Ulster county.

Miss Glennie M. Wager of this place, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Owen of Newburgh, and Mrs. Frank E. Crawford of Chelsea, visited the Ashokan Dam section, Thursday.

The annual custom of inviting town candidates to the meeting of the Plattkill Township Civic Association was observed Friday evening at Hasbrouck Memorial hall. It was designated as "Know Your Candidate Night." Mrs. Lee Rognon, president, introduced the speakers.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Bernard of Poughkeepsie, visited relatives here and in Gardiner Sunday.

At the regular meeting of Plattkill Juvenile Grange Saturday of last week, Mrs. Burton R. Ward of this place directed a one-act play stressing the importance of voting and good citizenship. Included in the cast were Mrs. Lillian Courter and Miss Arlene Bernard, also of Modena. Mrs. Lee Rognon presented information on citizenship and voting during the evening session of the Grange. The program committee included Robert J. Robinson and Vincent DeAngelis of Wallkill Central High School staff; Mrs. Virginia Abrahamson, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Peck.

Mrs. Donald Ross of Wallkill, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester A. Wager Jr., and daughter Judy Lynn Monday.

52 More Miners Come Out Safely, 38 Left Dead

Springhill, N. S., Nov. 5 (AP)—Fifty-two haggard miners long feared dead, were brought out of the Cumberland No. 4 mine today, 3½ days after an explosion trapped them more than a mile underground.

But the joy their rescue brought to this Nova Scotia coal town was tempered by word from police that there were no more survivors. Thirty-six others were rescued Saturday after almost all hope had been given up.

That left an estimated 38 dead in the explosion Thursday—13 miners and rescue workers killed on or near the surface and 25 believed still entombed far below ground.

Most of those rescued were in good condition, though weak. After the explosion destroyed their escape route, they punched holes in compressed air pipes and sucked air through their mouths. They plugged their noses to avoid breathing poisonous coal gas.

Draegeisen—volunteer rescue workers of the Nova Scotia mine fields—dug through the blocked tunnels to reach the entombed survivors.

Induct 4 Webelos Into Sauteries Scout Troop 32

Four Cub Scouts of Den 2, Mrs. Marion Launer, den mother received their Webelos Badges, highest award in Cub Scouting and were inducted into Boy Scout Troop 32 at the monthly pack meeting of Cub Pack 32, Atonement Lutheran Church held Thursday at the social hall.

They are Edward Storhsahl, Donald Rothrock, Leon Scheffel and Martin Launer. Kenneth Maclary, scoutmaster of Troop 32 conducted a candlelight ceremony for the graduation with members of his troop. The boys received a neckerchief and Tenderfoot pin.

Den 1 presented the opening ceremony. Roy Weber was welcomed into the pack as the new cubmaster. During the business meeting Activities Chairman Anley Myers supervised the Cub Scouts during games.

District Commissioner William C. Plimley officiated at the advancement ceremonies when the following awards were presented to Cubs in Den 1 and 3: Wolf Rank Badge, Glen Davis and Bruce D. Dennis; Bear Rank Badge, Michael Quick and a Silver Arrow, Rodney Plimley.

Mr. Plimley called upon George V. Dennis, Scout executive of Rip Van Winkle Council, to bring a message from the Council to the Pack. Mr. Dennis congratulated the boys who won rank advancements and Arrow Points and gave praise to the four boys who reached the Webelos rank and graduated into the Boy Scout Troop as Tenderfoot scouts. He wished the Pack much success under the leadership of its new Cubmaster, Mr. Weber, and looks forward to the growth of the Pack with the addition of one new den mother and possibly two new dens being formed in the near future.

Mrs. Frank Sloboda, Mrs. Anley Myers and Mrs. Henry Hanson volunteered to be the refreshment committee for the November Pack meeting. The theme for November will be "Puerto Rico" and the program will be planned around the traditions and festivals of the Puerto Ricans.

Mrs. Dennis announced that Johann Aalto, president of the Rip Van Winkle Council had accepted the invitation to be guest speaker at the November meeting and will project slides which he took in Puerto Rico recently while he and Mrs. Aalto were guests of the Puerto Rican Boy Scout Council.

Cubmaster Weber presented Certificates of Appreciation to Mrs. Marion Launer, retiring Den Mother and Mrs. Florence Myers, who was den mother of Den One until last June.

Den Three under the guidance of Mrs. Josephine Plimley, presented a puppet show entitled "Rip Van Winkle." The following members of the den represented the familiar characters: Steven Hanson, John Mul-laney, John France, Rodney Plimley, James Hayden, Curtis Richard and Jay Knaust. Mrs. Plimley narrated and Mrs. Warren Knaust assistant den mother acted as stage manager. Den One, under Mrs. Dennis' leadership, presented a puppet show. The puppets, all handmade, suggested only imaginative animals and Indians. The Puppeteers and their puppets were: Richard Crossland, Glen Davis, Bruce Dennis, Frank Sloboda, and Chris Myers. Mr. Dennis did the narrating for Den One.

The Rev. Richard I. Crossland, minister of the sponsoring institution, was introduced to the boys and their parents and expressed his pleasure that every boy was represented by at least one parent and most of them by both parents.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ethel Quick and Mrs.

Eleanor Curtis. The next Pack meeting will be Thursday, Nov. 29 and the next Pack Planning meeting will be on Monday night, Nov. 12, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Plimley, Clermont street.

Pack 32 will assist other Cubs in Sauteries in distributing the "Get Out the Vote" door-knob hangers to every house in the village.

IN THE PUBLIC INTEREST...

With property taxes hitting new record highs in nearly every city in the state, New Yorkers on Nov. 6 will vote on a $100 million bond issue for tax-exempt, privately-owned "limited profit" housing.

Under the terms of the Limited Profit Housing Act of 1955, families with earnings of $8,000-plus can move into limited profit apartments and stay there until their incomes hit $12,000-plus. Any way you look at them, limited profit housing companies are a peculiar breed of duck.

First of all, take the tenants. You wouldn't call them wealthy, perhaps, but certainly they're "comfortable". On the other hand, Governor Harriman says that one out of every seven families in the State has an income of less than $2,000-a-year. To tax these low income people in order to provide tax-exempt housing for families earning three, four, five, and six times as much requires a faulty concept of economics and—to say the least—a peculiar concept of humanitarianism.

Second, take the way these projects are to be financed. The company's stockholders must put up only 10% of the project cost—and even that can be in the form of land, not cash. The other 90% of the cost can be borrowed from the State and/or from the municipality in which the project is located. The loans can run up to 50 years, and at low interest rates. Not a bad way to go into business, is it?

Third, investors are about as well protected as the gold in Fort Knox. Stockholders are practically guaranteed a 6% interest. A dividend or interest payment missed in one year must be made up from the first available earnings in subsequent years.

Fourth, since the company is deemed to be serving a "public purpose", its bonds, mortgages, income debentures and other obligations are tax-exempt. So is the interest their holders earn.

Fifth, up to 50% of the value of the property in the project can be exempt from local taxation for up to 30 years. The average home owner, who probably earns less than many of the "middle income" families eligible for apartments in limited profit housing projects, would like to see the day when his taxes go down even 5%, to say nothing of having half the value of his property completely exempt from taxation.

For make no mistake about it—taxes that Smith is exempted from paying will have to be made up by Jones, Brown and Doe."

SPECIAL COMMITTEE AGAINST SOCIALIZED HOUSING

Try this "20 Question" Election Quiz on your husband!

(If he gets more than 15 right, you are married to a very well-informed man!)

Following are 20 True-False questions about what has been happening in your government, to labor, farmers, business, and social welfare during the Eisenhower Administration. Can your husband pick the True from the False?

What's his score on LABOR?

1. Under the administration of President Eisenhower more than 66 million people have jobs, the highest number in our history. T F ☐ ☐
2. Working people earn higher wages, and can buy more with their wages than ever before. ☐ ☐
3. Under the Eisenhower Administration the protection of unemployment compensation was extended to an additional 4 million people. ☐ ☐

Is he up-to-date on MONEY and TAXES?

4. The cost of living rose 50% during the Truman Administration—but has risen less than 3% under the Eisenhower Administration. T F ☐ ☐
5. During the Eisenhower Administration, income taxes have been cut for 78 million taxpayers, nearly all of them in the middle and lower income groups. ☐ ☐
6. Truman's spending plans were reduced by 10 billion dollars in the first year of the Eisenhower Administration. ☐ ☐
7. The Eisenhower tax cut in 1954 has meant a saving of at least $7.4 billion a year—two-thirds of it a saving to individual taxpayers. ☐ ☐
8. Under the Eisenhower administration the national budget has been balanced and almost 2 billion dollars paid on the public debt. ☐ ☐

What's been done in SOCIAL WELFARE?

9. During the Eisenhower Administration Social Security benefits have been increased and extended to over 10 million more people. T F ☐ ☐
10. The Cabinet Department of Health, Education and Welfare was established by President Eisenhower. ☐ ☐
11. For two years President Eisenhower has asked the Democratic Congress for Federal aid for school construction, but the Democrats have rejected his bill, and their own, too. ☐ ☐
12. The Eisenhower Administration sponsored a 27 billion dollar national highway program, consisting of 41,000 miles of highway. ☐ ☐
13. More homes have been built during the Eisenhower Administration, and more people have become home owners than ever before in any comparable period. ☐ ☐

How about SMALL BUSINESS and FARMERS?

14. In 1955 there was a greater net increase of new small businesses than in any of the last 4 years of the Truman Administration. T F ☐ ☐
15. Under the Eisenhower Administration, record quantities of farm surpluses have been put to sound use at home and shipped abroad. Farm prices and farm income have gone up this year without the aid of wartime demand. ☐ ☐
16. The first peacetime Agency to help small business, the Small Business Administration, was established by President Eisenhower. ☐ ☐
17. Since 1953 small business has been awarded more than $12 billion in government contracts, and additional billions in sub-contracts. ☐ ☐

Does he know this about PEACE?

18. America's Atoms for Peace program, developed by President Eisenhower has already been accepted by 39 Nations. T F ☐ ☐
19. The Eisenhower Administration not only ended the war in Korea, blocked the Communists in Guatemala and Iran, but has taken a leading part in stopping Communist aggression and establishing peace throughout the world. ☐ ☐
20. Our military power, both for national defense and as a deterrent to aggressors is stronger today than ever before in peace time. ☐ ☐

Correct Answers

Congratulations to your husband (and to you, too) if all twenty are checked "TRUE"!

Yes, all 20 statements in this quiz are absolutely true. They are a matter of record... the record of what the Eisenhower-Nixon Administration has done in many fields that affect not only the welfare of our country but the well-being of you and your family.

So, if you want another four years of peace, prosperity and progress, vote for Eisenhower and Nixon.

He served in the army of occupation for over six months prior to his honorable discharge. A member of Joyce Schrick Post 1386, VFW, he also belonged to the American Federation of Musicians, Local 215. Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Operators of America, Local 1350 and Kingston Lodge 10, F & AM. Mr. Weed was past master of Kingston Lodge about 10 years ago. Burial will be in Bay Street Cemetery, Glens Falls about 2 p. m. Tuesday. Friends may call at the chapel at any time.

Mrs. Kathryn Melville
Mrs. Kathryn Conlin Melville, 80, of 33 Derrenbacher street died Saturday at Norfolk, Va. Mrs. Melville had been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Cameron VanderVeer for the past month. Mrs. Melville had lived in Kingston all her life and was the daughter of the late Thomas and Jane Lynch Conlin. She was a faithful and devout member of St. Mary's Church. Surviving besides her daughter are three sons, Edward of Wallkill; William of Woodstock and Albert of Kingston; a sister, Mrs. Annie Shortell of Kingston. Fourteen grandchildren and four great grandchildren also survive. Mrs. Melville was also the mother of the late John, Woodrow, Thomas and Mary Melville. The funeral will be held at Jensen & Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Downs street Wednesday at 9 a. m. and from St. Mary's Church at 9:30 where a high Mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of her soul. Burial will be in St. Mary's cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home any time.

Ballot Returns Urged in Poll For CC Directors
George J. Silkworth, president of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce today urged all members who have not already done so, to fill out and return the nominating ballot for Chamber directors.

Up to noon today, 107 ballot envelopes had already been returned. This is approximately 17% of the 605 letters mailed out.

Stuart Randall, chairman of the Election Committee, has called a meeting of the committee for Monday night, November 12 to canvass the ballots. Therefore, ballots to be counted must be mailed by Saturday, Nov. 10 or delivered at the Chamber office in the Governor Clinton Hotel by 5 p. m. on November 12.

The nominating ballot letter contained a self-addressed return envelope, for the convenience of members as well as a complete list of all active members eligible to be nominated. The names of the fourteen persons receiving the highest number of nominating ballots will be placed on an election ballot to be mailed on or about December 1.

Proposal Rejected

Washington, Nov. 5 (AP)—U. S. officials instantly rejected today the proposal from Soviet Premier Bulganin for joint U. S.-Russian military action in the Middle East.

There was no immediate formal comment but well placed sources privately described the Russian gesture, made in a letter to President Eisenhower, as a grandstand play designed to embarrass the West and divert attention from Russian brutality in Hungary.

Eisenhower had firmly determined yesterday that if new outside forces were to go into the Middle East they should be provided by the small nations of the world and go under the flag of the United Nations as a force to police the peace.

U. S. policy therefore is opposed to intervention in the area by either Russia or the United States, just as this country all last week opposed the British-French assault on Egypt.

Terry Brickyard Shed Is Third Fire in 2 Weeks

A third fire within the past two weeks of apparent incendiary origin damaged a one-story vacant building on the Terry brickyard property, North street Sunday night.

Firemen said a section of siding and roof were involved when they arrived. Units from Central and Cornell stations, Union and Cordts hose companies and Wicks Engine Company answered an alarm from Box 2222, Delaware avenue and North street.

A shack near the same area was destroyed several days ago in a fire of apparent incendiary origin and before that a building of Altamari's Candy Mfg., 15 Gill street, was damaged by a blaze of suspicious origin.

Cordts and Union hose companies responded to a call at 5:15 p. m., Sunday to check a fire in a pile of lumber near the Knaust mushroom plant off Delaware avenue. The blaze was checked with a booster line.

A call at 8:30 p. m., Saturday was for a grass fire on the Ups-and-Downs off West Chestnut street.

15 County Home Residents Added To Voting Record

The names of 15 residents at the County Home in New Paltz were added to the voting register today on consent of counsel when a show cause order was returnable before County Judge Louis G. Bruhn.

This year a new voting district has been added in the town of New Paltz, known as the fourth election district. Last year the County Home was in the second district.

The board of inspectors of the fourth district refused to register the 15 names. S. James Matthews for petitioners secured a show cause order returnable at special term of county court. Arthur A. Davis Jr., county attorney appeared for the board of elections and Alfred Hafke of New Paltz for the board of inspectors.

John J. Doeh, chairman of the board of inspectors of the fourth election district consented that the names go on the register and an order to that effect was to be entered later today under the verbal agreement.

Sailor Facing Car-Theft Charge

Roland LeRoy Osterhoudt, 18, of 2 Oak street, now serving with the U. S. Navy, was taken to Newburgh today to face a car-theft charge after he was booked early Sunday on license police.

A police report at 12 a. m., Sunday said Osterhoudt was arrested by officers on charges of possessing no operator's license nor certificate of registration, and it was noted also that the car involved was one reported stolen from Newburgh.

City Judge Raymond J. Mino today imposed fines of $20 and $10 on the license and registration charges and suspended payment on both so that that the defendant could be released in the custody of the Newburgh police.

Osterhoudt, police said, had been serving at a U. S. Naval station in the Washington, D. C. area. Other young men in the car with him, at the time he was picked up here, said they did not know circumstances, and were not held.

JCC Election Eve Forum Is Tonight

The annual Election Eve Forum sponsored by the B'nai B'rith Lodge of Kingston will take place tonight at the Jewish Community Center at 265 Wall street. Members of the Lodge join with the Women's Chapter and the Jewish Community Center adult program committee in inviting the adults in the Kingston area to hear the issues and learn the facts about the major party platforms. In addition, the background and qualifications of the local elective post candidates will be discussed for the benefit of the audience.

Speakers for the program are Arthur Jorgenson, Democrat and Charles Gaffney, Republican. Special City Judge Harry Gold will serve as moderator for

Eisenhower Readies His Final Appeal

Washington, Nov. 5 (AP)—President Eisenhower readied his final appeal to the voters today while grappling with acute world problems centering in battle-enflamed Hungary and Egypt.

His campaign for re-election comes to an end less than 36 hours after he announced he had sent an "urgent message" to Soviet Premier Bulganin calling for:

1. Withdrawal of Soviet troops from Hungary.

2. Achieving for Hungary its own right of self-determination in the choice of its own government.

In a statement issued after an unusual Sunday meeting with some top advisers, and after a personal call on ailing Secretary of State Dulles, Eisenhower said there also was a "thorough review" of the Middle East situation and this country's efforts in the United Nations to remedy it.

Eisenhower plans to make his election eve talk—a 5 to 6-minute one—in the course of a coast-to-coast television broadcast on the three major networks starting at 11 p. m. EST.

While there was no official word, the expectation was that he would stress a get-out-the-vote angle, leaving the tub-thumping for the Republican party and for himself to Vice President Nixon and other participants.

Mrs. Eisenhower and their son and daughter-in-law, Maj. and Mrs. John S. Eisenhower, will be with the President when he speaks. So will the Vice President and Mrs. Nixon. Other speakers will be "cut in" from various points around the country.

Ike Looks

Majorities in the legislature, 35 to 23 in the state senate, and 90 to 60 in the assembly.

The GOP is shooting for a few more house seats and two-thirds majorities in the legislature, so that they can override vetoes of Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman. The party would need a heavy Eisenhower plurality to achieve the first goal, a landslide to attain the second.

Democrats hope to knock off a few Republican congressmen and to gain seats in the Legislature. The chances of doing either appear slim.

Republicans have been buoyed by the 7,689,299 voter registration, second highest in the state's history. The official figures show a 254,000 drop since 1952 in heavily Democratic New York city and a gain of 101,000 in the rest of the state, predominantly Republican territory.

Javits, 52-year-old former congressman from Manhattan, is unpopular with many conservative Republicans upstate, largely because of his liberal views and a New Dealish voting record in Congress. For that reason, he is expected to run well behind Eisenhower in the upstate stronghold.

Republican leaders, however, have been counting on him to offset upstate losses with a better-than-par showing for a Republican in New York city, his hometown.

the forum. Arrangements for the program have been made by the committee chaired by Seymour Rudisch and Attorney Seymour Werbalowsky. Refreshments will be served by the committee under Mrs. Herbert Gertner and Leon Miller.

Special interest in this last hour forum will be generated by the minute by minute developments in the news and the programs for resolution of the world crisis in the Middle East and Hungary. It is hoped that all members of the sponsoring organizations and the general public will attend the forum in the Skyroom of the Jewish Community Center.

Cease-Fire

their long-heralded invasion, but said they would welcome the UN police force as a shield between warring Egypt and Israel as soon as the two Middle East governments accepted UN proposals for peace, and there was a settlement of the Suez question.

The French and British paratroopists started landing just after dawn, apparently to seize a bridgehead for land forces at sea on a large armada sailing from Cyprus.

Some Resistance

The command at Cyprus said the operations went according to plan, with the troops landing on time and at the right places. Some resistance from mortar and machinegun fire was met.

The first Egyptian announcement claimed the first wave of 3,000 paratroopers was annihilated by soldier, police and civilian fighters and that a second wave was being wiped out.

This was subject to question since last week Egypt had announced it was annihilating Israeli forces in Sinai. Damascus radio quoted the Egyptian army as saying a third wave landed after 15 British and French aircraft were shot down.

Then Eden made his dramatic announcement of the Egyptian negotiations to surrender.

Leave From Cyprus

French and British ground forces embarked on an invasion armada at Cyprus yesterday, but there was no hint when they would begin landing. The invasion fleet included warships, transports and support ships.

Egypt's military command, in its first announcement on the invasion, said "our troops dominate completely the situation." The Egyptians said the troops came hurtling out of the skies at 7:30 a. m. (12:30 a. m. EST) at Port Fouad, Gamil Airport and Baz Gabbah, all near Port Said at the northern entrance to the canal.

Claims Seven Planes

Seven planes were knocked into the sea when they tried to drop military supplies, the Egyptian command claimed. But at Cyprus the British-French command said the fleet of transport planes dropped its loads of fighting men on time and on the mark and all returned safely, though some were slightly damaged by groundfire.

The chief resistance met by the paratroopers, they said, was from tank, mortar and machinegun fire.

Returning British airmen said the initial phases of the operation went off "just like a practice jump."

Bridges Are Seized

French forces immediately seized two bridges across the canal backwaters south of Port Said, Cyprus headquarters reported.

Meanwhile, Israeli forces in the mop-up operations in the Sinai desert claimed the capture of the mainland town of Sharm (Sharm-el-Sheikh), controlling the entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba and Israeli's Port of Elath. Unconfirmed reports yesterday said two fortified islands off Sharm-Tiran and Sanafir—had been taken.

The British-French announcement of the parachute strike was in these words:

"Men of allied parachute battalions were dropped by British and French transport aircraft over the Port Said area this morning. In order not to cause civilian casualties or damage to the town no preliminary bombardment was carried out."

The waves of paratroopers took off from Cyprus in predawn darkness.

Many Are Veterans

Most of the British troopers were regulars. Ten to 15 per cent had been in combat before. Many were veterans of Britain's bloody battle against the EOKA underground on Cyprus.

Prior to the landings, British and French bombers had pounded coastal and anti-aircraft installations in the canal area in a softening up operation.

Low level bombing attacks also were reported north and northeast of Cairo.

2 Fires Checked In East Kingston

Two fires—one in Brigham's brickyard, the other in Brigham's clay bank—broke out within 30 minutes of each other early Sunday night in East Kingston.

The brickyard and clay bank have been out of operation for five or six years and firemen suspect arson in both instances, it is reported.

This is the third fire at the clay bank alone within the past month. Two other sheds there have been destroyed by fire. The only building left standing now is an old home which hasn't been occupied for the past 20 years.

The fire at the clay bank broke out first, about 7 p. m. The East Kingston Fire Company responded. While battling the clay bank fire, a second report of fire at the brickyard was received.

Ulster Hose No. 5 was dispatched to the scene to lend assistance.

Village Threatened

According to Mrs. Michael Quarantino, wife of one of the firemen, flames shot high into the air from a wooden shed at the brickyard which she estimated to be 300 or 400 feet long. She said the fire was at the bottom of Barnhouse Hill not far from a number of residences and a large oil tank.

"If the boys hadn't been pretty sharp, it might have burned up East Kingston," Mrs. Quarantino said. She said the two fires Sunday were about the sixth which had broken out under suspicious circumstances during the past month in the East Kingston area.

"We're all pretty scared," she told the Freeman.

She said that James Costello, former chief of the department, had stuck a nail in his foot while fighting the brickyard fire.

Joint U.S.-Soviet

hower to Premier Bulganin demanding withdrawal of Soviet troops from Hungary and free elections there.

Asks Bloodshed Cease
Bulganin said that "at this menacing hour when the loftiest moral principles and the foundations and aims of the United Nations are being put to the test, the Soviet government approaches the government of the United States with a proposal of close cooperation in order to put an end to aggression and stop any further bloodshed."

Bulganin charged that France and Britain attacked Egypt "without any reason."

He contended that the situation in Egypt called for immediate and most resolute action on the part of the United Nations, saying "in the event of these actions not being undertaken, the United Nations organization would lose in the eyes of mankind its prestige and would disintegrate."

First Victim

On June 20, 1913 U. S. Ensign W. D. Billingsley became the first naval aviator to be killed in a plane when he was hurled out of a navy Wright B2 plane and was drowned.

Inspection Tour

avenue and the treatment plant. A tour was also made of the department's garage.

Largest construction project of this year's street-repair program was Delaware avenue from Hasbrouck avenue through to Kingston Point. Approximately 75 per cent of curbing on the street was reset to line and grade. New curb was installed from Abruy 16 Crane street and from the Cordts fire house to North street.

The street was widened from Crane to Abruy street and from Lindsey avenue to North street requiring the resetting of all curbing. A section of a brook was piped, some sidewalk was laid in the area of Crane and Abruy street, and from North street to Kingston Point the road was raised to a maximum of three feet to bring the street above the high water level. A culvert along that section was reinforced and the bus turnaround at North street was improved.

Other streets repaired over their full lengths were Emerson, Green, Franklin, and Susan streets, Lafayette and Clifton avenues. Washington avenue was repaired from Linderman to Greenkill avenue; Mary's avenue, O'Reilly street to West Chester; Flatbush avenue, Farrelly street to East Chester, and Hasbrouck avenue from Grand street to Delaware avenue, and Third avenue from Delaware avenue to High street. Curbing and other similar work was done on several of these streets.

The group also inspected the turn of the Boulevard near LeHerb's Restaurant, where areas were cleared to improve visibility and the shoulders of the road improved.

Five cars were used on the tour, and in the group were Ernest A. Steuding, public works superintendent; Kenneth Hyatt, and Charles O. Davis, members of the BPW. City Engineer Arthur F. Hallinan, Alderman-at-large John J. Schwenk; aldermen James K. Ryan, Richard V. Roth, William K. Bodenweber, and William A. Davis; Max Oppenheimer, assistant public works superintendent; George Silkworth, president of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce; Alfred J. P. Seitz, of the downtown merchants group; Harry Rigby, of the Central Businessmen's Association; Joseph Kelly, Kingston Daily Freeman; Ira V. D. Warren, Kingston-Ulster Press, and Robert Browning, Radio Station WSKN.

Farmhouse Razed

flames from spreading to several large barns and outbuildings. An inadequate supply of water made it impossible to arrest the progress of the fire in the farmhouse itself, it was reported.

Equipment, hay and dairy farm supplies filled the barns and outbuildings. No estimate of fire loss was immediately available.

The dairy farm is located near the Modena Gardens, a summer resort.

The Clintondale, Modena, Gardiner and Plattkill fire companies responded to the alarm which came shortly after midnight Saturday. Fire equipment remained at the scene until about 6 a. m. Sunday.

Think It Through

By E. F. HUTTON

The American people are having their earnings and liberties confiscated by the social planners—do-gooders, who want to exercise complete control over their liberties. We now face a "One World Utopian State." About 2,000 political psychiatrists and social planners have formulated a plan of gruesome and ghastly proportions that would curl the hair of a Barber Shop Indian.

MR. HUTTON

—a plan for National thought control, to brainwash our minds, and cleanse them of all preconceived ideas of right and wrong; debunk them of outmoded moral concepts; and turn us back to an ant hill society, so we would accept, unknowingly, a One World Government.

Now comes Candidate Stevenson. In his acceptance speech, he said: "History's headlong course has brought us—I devoutly believe—to the America of great ideals."

One the record, Mr. Stevenson, you are for some form of world government. What kind? For once, be specific. Is it the "Conquest of the American Mind"?

Both Sides Make Claim to Pennsy Landslide Wins

Philadelphia, Nov. 5 (AP)—The Pennsylvania election campaign drove today toward a hard-hitting climax that is expected to make the Keystone state more than just a nickname in the presidential race.

Both sides predicted top heavy majorities for their candidates. Any such sweep by either side would be a surprise, however.

Joseph M. Barr, Democratic state chairman, said Adlai Stevenson will carry the state by as much as 292,000 votes in the Democratic presidential candidate's bid for election.

His Republican counterpart, George I. Bloom, named no figure but said President Eisenhower's vote could reach "landslide proportions." Eisenhower won the state in 1952 by 269,000 votes.

Record Registration
Pennsylvania's 32 electoral votes, second only to New York's 45, is the prize to be decided by nearly 5½ million eligible voters—a record high registration in this state.

The Pennsylvania outcome could very well determine who will be the next president of the United States and the fact that both Eisenhower and Stevenson campaigned heavily in this state.

Eisenhower made three separate trips into the Keystone state, and Stevenson four, something virtually unprecedented in the state history.

Hot Senatorial Race
Right behind the presidential race in importance is the fight by Republican Sen. James H. Duff to keep his seat in Washington. His Democratic opponent is former Mayor Joseph S. Clark of Philadelphia.

Duff, 73, and Clark, 55, are battling for a six-year term that is expected to be decided by the narrowest of majorities.

Clark is being given an even chance to win even though Pennsylvania has elected only two Democratic senators in a century. Duff's backers are counting on a big Eisenhower vote to carry him through.

About half of the 8,808 precincts in the state use voting machines. The others use paper ballots.

GOP Bulge Shrinks
Registration figures show Republicans with 2,898,189 and Democrats with 2,456,409. The 441,780 GOP bulge is less than half of the nearly one million majority that Republicans held four years ago.

Thirty seats in Congress also are at stake. Republicans now hold 16 and Democrats 13, with one vacant.

All 210 seats in the State House will be up for election as well as 27 out of 50 senatorial seats.

Three other statewide offices are at stake.

Civil Service Exams

The Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners for the Treasury Department has announced an examination for Treasury Enforcement Agent paying $525 a year to start. The positions are located in New York state with the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division of the Internal Revenue Service, the U. S. Secret Service, the Bureau of Narcotics and the Bureau of Customs. The written test will be given during the early part of December for all persons who file before Nov. 26. However, applications will be accepted until the needs of the service have been met. The application form and copy of Announcement No. 2-55-3 (1956), or information as to where they may be obtained can be secured in any post office in New York state except New York, N. Y.; Second U. S. Civil Service Region, Federal Building, Christopher street, New York 14, and the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Internal Revenue Service, U. S. Treasury Department, Room 1116, 90 Church street, New York 7.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

From time to time a poet sits down and describes his own locality. Little does he know then that perhaps those words will live on to be read by someone a century or so later.

I received a note and enclosure from Mrs. William F. Hasbrouck of Stone Ridge. She said she found the following poem in some old papers and thought perhaps I can use it and that maybe I have seen it before. It is called "Roundout in the Fifties" by the late John Horton in 1854. I think somewhere I did see it. I am sure many copies were made of it. Mine is typewritten. It starts off with: "Roundout, on the pretty Roundout creek. Will be a city very quick. It has one bank and lots of stores, besides the hardware store of More's . . . Lots of steamboats we have here, that bring up freight and take down beer; they bring up merchant's eggs for pass, The North American and Santa Claus."

That was even before the Mary Powell days.

It is a long poem so I am going to take some of the lines like: "The Mansion House is going up and there the lager beer we'll sup. We go to Metzger's on the hill, we get our boots of William Still . . . The next you find is Brother Dunn, Stebbins and Staples, Schoonmaker and Wood sell ginger pop . . . Ed. Hudler, he keeps a lumber yard; Norris and Stone, they sell good lard. Don't fail to go, if you have the means, to Jimmy Davis' for pork and beans."

The canalliers get their 97 cents a ton. 'Tis the money that every canaller likes, and the company's agent is Major Sykes . . . Four soldier companies, all well armed, in Roundout village have been formed, three belong to the regiment, but the other one is independent . . . The Washington and Jackson Rifles, and Harrison Guards ain't scared at trifles, and then the Jefferson Volunteers, at war's alarm should have no fears." Often history was preserved in poetic form, by those who were there when it was happening.

The poet even went across the creek on the Skillyput as he wrote: "Across the creek, at Sleightsburgh Ferry, we will go over and be merry, walk faster now; come let's be doing, and get to the river at Port Ewen . . . That office on the dock you see, belongs to the Pennsylvania Coal Company. The steamboat Pittston, she's the gal, to tow boats down from the canal." Then he went to South Roundout, as he wrote: "Across the creek, in South Roundout, as everybody knows about, they make von Beck's prime lager beer, for, as you know, the brewery's here."

This poem, no doubt was written, in the midst of the prosperity of the D and H Canal. Perhaps some of the readers have seen this poem and therefore know how long it is. John Horton, the poet, in the early 1850's tried to cover everything going on in Roundout, South Roundout, Port Ewen and Sleightsburgh and that was a big order in those days. Mrs. Jump of Port Ewen loaned me the literary scrap book and monthly family magazine of 1854 some time ago and I copied some of the business enterprises taking perhaps 15 pages, so no doubt, Horton the poet, had to discard some names which he could not fit into his rhyme, although his poem covers four typewritten pages. This proves that Roundout and this section was a thriving community more than a century ago and was known up and down the Hudson as such.

Plane Designer Dies
Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 5 (AP)—Funeral services for Robert J. Woods, 52, designer of the first plane to fly faster than sound, will be held here tomorrow afternoon. Burial will be in Youngstown, Ohio, where he was born. Woods, a co-founder of the Bell Aircraft Corp., was stricken with a fatal heart attack Saturday evening in his Grand Island home near here.

11 Are Killed In Road Crashes During Weekend

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 5 (AP)—Highway crashes were responsible for 11 of 14 accidental deaths in New York state over the weekend.

A shooting, a drowning and a fire were other causes. Arlo Deyo, 48, of Fulton, father of eight children, was killed in a three-car crash yesterday near Syracuse.

Hardy Cross, 2, was drowned when left alone for a few minutes in a bathtub in his New York city home.

Carl L. Olsen, 19, of Alplaus, Schenectady county, was shot to death when, police said, he apparently fell on a .30-caliber rifle he had been carrying.

Thomas Pagano, 40, and his wife, Mary, 47, of Hempstead, were killed when their car hit a bridge abutment in Malverne, Long Island.

Other Victims

Buffalo—Malcolm Massey Sr., 59, car hit tree Saturday.

Little Valley—Marlin T. Neatour, 19, of Bradford, Pa., car hit drainpipe Saturday.

Lockport—Stanley Lewendowski, 74, hit by car Friday.

Buffalo—Joseph Ward, 55, hit by car Friday.

New Lebanon—Lloyd Mackenzie, 14, crash of two automobiles and horse he was riding yesterday.

Niagara Falls—Ronald LaPage, 19, of Thorold, Ont., in car that hit house yesterday.

Cheektowaga—Starry Ezzar-nata, 30, fire destroyed home yesterday.

Wading River—Melchor Rodriguez, 10, of South Ozone Park, two car collision yesterday.

Stamford—Mrs. Naomi Odell of Hobart, crash of two automobiles yesterday.

Israel Confident War Won't Spread

New York, Nov. 5 (AP)—An Israeli official says he is confident the fighting between Israel and Egypt will not spread to other lands in the Middle East.

"We feel that, without Egyptian instigation, there will be no serious attack from any other Arab country," said Theodore Kollek yesterday. "We are quite confident the conflict will not spread."

Kollek, director general of the office of Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion, made the comment as he arrived by air. He came here to give an "on the spot" report to Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban.

31 Members Not Returning to Congress in '57

Washington, Nov. 5 (AP)—Thirty-one members of the present Congress—six senators and 25 representatives—won't be back next year regardless of what happens in tomorrow's elections.

Two other representatives won't return to the House, but may land in the Senate.

The six senators pulling out voluntarily include the veterans Eugene D. Millikin (R-Colo.), Walter F. George (D-Ga.) and Herbert Lehman (D-N.Y.), and three interim appointees not seeking election in their own right: Robert Humphreys (D-Ky.), William R. Laird (D-W.Va.) and Thomas A. Wofford (D-S.C.).

Of the 25 representatives not returning to the House, 18 retired, several with service long enough to rate pensions in excess of $10,000 a year; six were defeated in primary elections, and one unsuccessfully sought nomination to the Senate.

This plumber had remembered to bring all of his tools so it didn't take him long to fix the hot-water boiler. The cook had been watching him with admiration. He thought at first it was admiration for his work but he was soon forced to the alternative conclusion. Just to be sociable he showed a little more than passing interest in her. Unfortunately, she took him seriously and suggested:

Cook--I'm off this coming Thursday and there's a good picture down at the Strand. The plumber quickly applied the brakes.

Plumber (in an outraged tone) What, on my own time?

Called up for jury duty, a woman refused to serve because she didn't believe in capital punishment.

Trying to persuade her, the judge explained: Judge--This is merely a case where a wife is suing her husband because she gave him $1,000 to pay down on a fur coat and he lost the money in a poker game.

FUNNY BUSINESS

By HERSCHBERGER

"This is the last part of the job, lady--we smooth it over when you pay the bill!"

Woman--I'll serve. I could be wrong about capital punishment.

Lady--You seem able-bodied and healthy. You ought to be strong enough to work.

Tramp--True enough, lady. And you seem beautiful enough to be in the movies, but evidently you prefer the simple life.

Amongst other advantages: a rolling stone gathers no moss.

Casper looked like Rodin's statue of "The Thinker."

College Roommate--What's troubling you, pal?

Casper--I just got a letter from my father offering to give me $5,000 if I give up all my bad habits. I don't know what to do about it.

College Roommate--Don't know what to do about it? Why, take the $5,000 of course.

Casper--Yeah? But how am I going to spend it if I have no bad habits?

Neighbor--Is it true, Miss Elderleigh, that you are going to be married soon?

Miss E.--Well, no, it isn't. But I am very grateful for the rumor.

Health for All

DIETERS BEWARE

Only two generations ago plumpness was not considered unattractive at all—on the contrary, the plump girls had it all over the slim ones. But today athletic, active America has decided in favor of the slim figure—for men as well as women.

And America is right, but not for reasons of beauty. People who are overweight tend to be subject to more, and more serious, illnesses than those whose weight is appropriate to their build. Keeping fit and trim is good sense.

So the diet has become popular with overweight people, and with people who may not actually be overweight but who would like to be fashionably slimmer. The dieter today may choose from a variety of diets publicized in the press, on the radio and TV, diets with enticing names, diets that run the gamut from nothing but steak to liquid formulas similar to those one feeds the baby. The dieter never had a wider choice. But this is the problem. Many of us who want to lose weight are likely to pick a diet because it sounds easy, or because it promises miracles. We forget that the real reason for losing weight is because we want to look well and feel better. One of the most vital factors in our health and beauty is a balanced diet. Just losing weight isn't the answer—and it can be harmful.

So there's only one way to choose a diet—go to your doctor and let him tell you first of all whether you should lose weight and, if so, how you should lose it. Your doctor is in a position to tell you about dieting, for your body may need certain types of foods that are inadequately provided for in some of the popular diets. And once you've had professional advice on your weight problem, follow it carefully—for dieting is very serious "medicine" that should be taken only by prescription.

This column is sponsored, in the interest of better health, by Ulster County TB and Health Association, 74 John street, Kingston.

There are so many first-class players today that nobody can recognize them all. It's a great mistake to underestimate your opponent in a tournament just because you've never seen him before. An amusing illustration of this principle comes to me in a letter from a distinguished Raleigh, N. C., player.

"My partner and I," writes Charles A. Poe, "received a top score on the accompanying hand in the summer national tournament in New York last August. Nevertheless, we were somewhat embarrassed over the result.

"My partner opened the eight of clubs. I took the ace and returned a club to declarer's king. When South next led out three top trumps, I saw that declarer quipped in spades or diamonds unless he were given something else to think about. I therefore pitched my nine of diamonds!

"Declarer regarded this with much suspicion. As he continued to run trumps, I could see him trying to size me up out of the corner of his eye. Finally he concluded, evidently, that I looked dumb enough to be trying to signal my partner that I had the king of diamonds. He led to dummy's ace of diamonds, and returned the queen. When I played low, he discarded a small spade.

"It was a pleasure to defeat the contract, but it was also embarrassing. It was necessary to persuade the declarer that I was a very bad player. The result helped my score but hurt my pride!"

Jobless Claims Drop in October

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 5 (AP)—Claims for unemployment insurance benefits in New York state dropped in mid-October to the lowest point in 11 years.

The State Commerce Department also reported yesterday that non-farm employment in September was at a 1956 high of 6,026,000.

The department said the September index of business activity was 127—down one point from the August record and two points higher than in September, 1955.

Lowest Since 1945

Claims for unemployment insurance were 130,200 in mid-October. The Commerce Department said that was the lowest point since August, 1945. The claims were 22,600 below those of October, 1955.

Commerce Commissioner Edward T. Dickinson said employment gains were in factories and retail stores and, to a lesser extent, in transportation, public utilities and government.

The non-farm employment in September climbed 28,600 from August and 31,700 from September, 1955.

Dickinson said wholesale, retail and construction activity slipped from August to September.

Despite the monthly drop, he said, department store sales in the New York Federal Reserve District were up six per cent from a year ago. There was a 14 per cent increase in northern New York.

Academy Exams For Coast Guard Set Feb. 25-26

Thousands of young men throughout the United States, Hawaiian Islands, Alaska, Puerto Rico, and the Canal Zone, will take the competitive examination for cadetship in the United States Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn., February 25 and 26.

An applicant must be a high school senior or graduate who has reached his 17th but not passed his 22nd birthday on July 1, 1957. Applicants still in high school must graduate and earn 15 units by June 30, 1957. The units must include three in English, two in algebra, and one in Plane Geometry. Applicants must be in good physical condition, must be between 64 and 78 inches tall—with proportionate weight, and must have uncorrected 20-20 vision in each eye.

Appointments are made on the basis of competitive examination and evaluated general adaptability. There are no Congressional appointments or geographical quotas.

Informational booklets and application forms may be obtained by writing to either: Commandant (PTP) U. S. Coast Guard, Washington 25, D.C. or Coast Guard Public Information Office, 80 Lafayette street, New York 13. The completed application forms must be received by Coast Guard Headquarters in Washington by January 15.

Hospitals to Use Two-Way Radio For Conferences

Kingston and Benedictine Hospitals will participate in a two-day radio medical conference series conducted by Albany Medical College during this week.

The opening conference on the management of cardiac emergencies will be beamed to up-state hospitals at noon Monday. The hour-long program, the major part of which is devoted to questions and answers, will be repeated for the two Kingston hospitals Friday.

The series, covering a wide range of medical topics, will continue on a three-times-a-week basis throughout the academic year.

Begun as Experiment

Begun as an experiment in postgraduate medical education, the two-way radio conferences were inaugurated by the medical college, in cooperation with amateur radio operators of this area December 5 last year.

The conferences originate from a fourth floor amateur radio room at the medical college. From there they are beamed to hospital conference rooms, where two-way transmitters allow physicians to hear the discussion and direct questions back to the instructors.

Dr. Curtis P. Bight and Dr. Stephen T. McGrath, local dentists are the "ham" radio operators in charge of sets located at each of the hospitals. Dr. Bight, who will operate the Benedictine Hospital unit said the conference series has improved in certain respects, and he expects that even greater interest in the project will be shown. The call letters of Dr. Bight's home unit are KN2TGG.

Dr. McGrath controlling the Kingston Hospital unit has not received his approved call letters for the transmitter he expects to operate in his home.

Dr. Frank M. Woolsey Jr., associate dean and director of post-graduate medical education said he expects the attendance this year to exceed that of last year, when more than 4,300 physicians participated.

Ike Is Hopeful Note Will Ease Hungary Tension

Washington, Nov. 5 (AP)—President Eisenhower was reported hopeful today that his personal appeal to Soviet Premier Bulganin would exert a restraining influence on the re-imposition of Soviet tyranny in Hungary.

United States officials feared, however, that a reign of terror, marked by mass arrests and bloody purges, would follow Russia's ruthless military suppression of the Hungarian people's short-lived bid for freedom.

Though the hope of exercising any major restraint on Soviet conduct was admittedly slight, they said that everything possible and practical must be done to achieve that result.

Urges Withdrawal

In an urgent message to Bulganin, which he announced yesterday, Eisenhower asked for withdrawal of Soviet troops from Hungary and appealed for recognition of the right of the Hungarian people to choose their own government.

The message was a move in American efforts to make the best of two bad situations with which the administration here was confronted in the final hours before Tuesday's Presidential election.

The other problem which occupied the anxious attention of Eisenhower and his chief advisers at a long White House conference yesterday was the crisis in the Middle East as it has been intensified by British and French attacks on Egypt.

Eisenhower's statement yesterday said that in addition to going over "the ways and means available to the United States" for trying to obtain freedom for Hungary, he and his advisers had engaged in "a thorough review of the Middle East situation" and the work going on in the United Nations to restore peace there.

Mideast Briefs

Naples, Italy, Nov. 5 (AP)—The Israeli ship Artza left Naples today with 800 Jewish volunteers for the Israeli army. They were believed to include 600 volunteers who tried to reach Haifa from Marseille aboard an Argentine ship which stopped at Naples and refused to take them any further.

Bangkok, Thailand, Nov. 5 (AP)—Three hundred persons marched through Bangkok to the home of Premier P. Pibulsonggram last night and demanded Thailand send troops to aid Egypt. They shouted anti-British slogans.

New Delhi, India, Nov. 5 (AP)—A statement distributed today by the Afghanistan embassy condemned what it called "unprovoked, unwarranted aggression by British and French forces and by so-called Jewish State on Egyptian territory."

Bonn, Germany, Nov. 5 (AP)—One thousand Egyptian students marched in the streets today protesting shipments of goods to Israel under the German-Israeli restitution agreement.

Beirut, Lebanon, Nov. 5 (AP)—The Lebanese government decided today to send Dr. Charles Malik, noted elder statesman, to Washington to urge American intervention to halt the British-French attack on Egypt. Malik, former ambassador in Washington and Lebanon's UN representative, is dean of the graduate school of the American university in Beirut.

New Delhi, India, Nov. 5 (AP)—The prime ministers of India, Ceylon, and Burma and Indonesia will meet here a week from today to discuss the Egyptian situation, an Indian government spokesman announced.

Britons Demand Ouster of Eden

London, Nov. 5 (AP)—Clamoring crowds tied up famed Trafalgar Square for hours Sunday in the wildest demonstrations seen in London in 20 years. Cries of "no war" and demands that Prime Minister Eden resign marked the demonstrations.

58 PEARL STREET, INC.—A new office building, known as 58 Pearl Street, Inc., was recently completed and is now occupied. Lawrence A. Quilty of the L. A. Quilty Insurance Agency is president of the venture and George Swart, local contractor, secretary-treasurer. The former McIntyre residence was completely renovated "top to bottom." The building, consisted of three floors, has been modernized and redecorated. Parking facilities are provided in the rear. Mr. Quilty said the bottom floor would be occupied by Dr. Stuyvesant Brodhead, a dentist, and Dr. Arthur Carr. The first floor will be occupied by the L. A. Quilty Insurance Agency and Lawrence J. MacAvery, local realtor. The top floor will be occupied by the offices of Henry Swart and Son, contractors, Augustus S. Brimmer, surveyor, and Attorney Joseph Hill. Mr. Hill is now stationed with the U. S. Army in Germany but expects to open a law office upon his return about January 1, 1957. (Freeman photo).

FOR CIVIL Defense

RECEIVES OFFICIAL CD PIN—George J. Silkworth, manager of Babcock's Milk Products, this city, receives official Civil Defense pin signifying his company has enrolled officially in the national "Cooperating Dairy for Civil Defense" program. The plan provides for cooperating dairies to supply emergency water in milk cartons to communities in distress for drinking water.

rested. Some appeared in Magistrate's Court this morning, where they received light fines on charges of insulting behavior. The stiffest fine was 20 shillings ($2.80) with 20 shillings costs.

'Eden Must Go'

Labor party orators egged the crowd on with anti-Eden slogans. They assailed the government for the armed intervention in Egypt and cried "Eden must go!"

Eden and his cabinet were meeting at No. 10 Downing St. on both the Middle East and Hungarian situation as the demonstrations took place.

Aneurin Bevan, the fiery Welsh orator who is No. 3 man in the Labor party, stirred the crowds with this statement:

"We are stronger than Egypt, other countries are stronger than us. If they launch bombs on London, what answer have we got?"

Over 125 Oppose Garbage Dumping Site in Hurley

Objection to the proposed site of the garbage dump on the Charles Schreiber property along the creek in Hurley was made at the Hurley town board meeting last week.

Over 125 taxpayers listened to Anthony Hickey speak in protest against the proposed site and he then delivered to the town board a petition signed by 130 taxpayers protesting the location. Hickey said the proposed dump along the creek in Hurley presented a serious problem during the flood season, that it was certain to cause property devaluation and was unjust to the people of the area.

On motion from the floor the proposed location was rejected by a voice vote of the taxpayers in attendance at the meeting.

Supervisor Relyea was asked whether the matter would be considered by the town board, since those present strongly objected to the Schreiber property location, and Relyea assured the taxpayers the matter would be given consideration by the board. While no action was taken by the town board, the intimation was that the Schreiber site probably would not be acceptable.

Edward J. Browne supported Hickey's remarks and stated the garbage disposal problem was a long range problem and some planning was necessary if a solution was to be found. Harry Waage pointed out that the question of an incinerator or other method of disposal was mentioned to the town board some months ago. Supervisor Relyea said he had told M. Waage at the previous meeting that at any time Mr. Waage could obtain signatures of 51 per cent of the taxpayers in favor of an incinerator the town board would consider it. J. J. Carroll remarked he thought it the job of the town board to come up with a program for garbage disposal and present it to the taxpayers and that no taxpayer should be expected to solicit signatures, that being properly the work of the town board.

Charles Schreiber, owner of the proposed location, spoke in favor of the location and charged the Democrats had started the agitation when the old dump was closed.

Relyea replied the board of health had ordered the old dump closed.

Carroll pointed out the Democratic platform for 1956 advocated some planning for garbage disposal because of the rapid growth of the Hurley area and that it apparently was a long range planning that was desired by the group now objecting to the proposed location.

Proposed town budget figures were read by Town Clerk Charles Goble and Mr. Browne raised the question of prompt snow removal.

Superintendent of Highways Henry Battenfeld reported ready to cope with the situation, saying that last winter he had been hampered by lack of equipment and breakdowns. M. McMahon of West Hurley questioned the total amount for road repairs and asked in the $8,000 for snow removal was in addition to the $30,000 for road repairs. Supervisor Relyea said it was, the total was $38,000.

John Flanagan asked what litigation required an item of $1,500 for attorney fees and legal expenses and Supervisor Relyea said the $1,500 was salary for a town attorney who is to be appointed by the town board to advise the board on legal questions.

HOW POLITICAL "FOOTBALL" COST YOU $500,000

On January 8, 1956, two flood-relief bills were simultaneously introduced by Democrats in the Assembly and Senate — providing $2,000,000 to restore damaged public facilities. On January 10, Gov. Harriman sent a special message to the Legislature urging immediate passage of the bills.

These bills were pigeon-holed in committee by Republican chairmen. On Feb. 12, Mayor Eugene Glusker wrote an open letter to Senator Wicks demanding legislative action. On Feb. 16, Senator Wicks replied in a published letter that he wanted more information on where the money would be spent.

Mayor Glusker, calling this bluff, contacted the State Dept. of Public Works, who informed Sen. Wicks that a major part of the money would be spent right in this area. On Feb. 20, Mayor Glusker organized a Motorcade to Albany, in an attempt to force the Republicans to release the bills.

Despite this, on March 6, both Senator Wicks and Assemblyman Wilson voted against bringing the $2,000,000 flood-relief bill out of Committee!

On the last day of the legislative session, March 31, Mr. Wilson made his "big play": he introduced a flood bill in his own name which was a word-for-word copy of the original Democratic bill — with one big difference: The appropriation was chopped by $500,000. And Mr. Wilson proudly claims credit for the bill.

FURTHERMORE ... during the floods last year, Mr. Wilson NEVER called or wrote the stricken communities to find out if help was needed. And he NEVER contacted state officials to obtain assistance.

Here is a part of "your" Assemblyman's voting record that he does NOT tell you about

The present Assemblyman has not given the people of Ulster County an even break. For 4 years, he has voted "NO" on virtually every bill intended to advance the welfare of the average wage-earner and consumer.

In his bid for reelection, however, he has suddenly remembered the people again. He has widely advertised his supposedly liberal voting record. But the facts do not support him. An examination of the few "liberal" measures he has voted for reveals most of them to be compromise, watered-down versions of bills he voted AGAINST in their original form.

THIS IS AN EXAMPLE OF WHAT HIS VOTING RECORD IS REALLY LIKE — straight from the official State Records:

- 1) Voted "NO" on $2,000,000 State flood aid (Bill No. 528). See opposite column for full story.
- 2) Voted "NO" on bond issue to provide low-rent housing projects (Bill No. 2925).
- 3) Voted "NO" on extension of unemployment insurance to firms with only 1 or 2 employees (Bill No. 2591). As a result, wage-earners in small stores and businesses cannot protect their families should they lose their jobs.
- 4) Voted "NO" on extension of unemployment benefits (Bill No. 2576). Would have provided additional $4.00 weekly for each dependent of persons receiving unemployment insurance (limit of 3 persons).
- 5) Voted "NO" on reduction of eligibility time for unemployment benefits (Bill No. 2600).
- 6) Voted "NO" on increasing non-occupational disability benefits from $33 to $40 per week, because this was a Democratic-sponsored bill (Bill No. 2597). Playing "Russian Roulette" with the interests of the people, he later voted YES, when the same identical bill was re-introduced by a Republican.
- 7) Voted "NO" on increasing duration of sickness disability benefits from 13 to 26 weeks (Bill No. 2855).
- 8) Voted "NO" on 10% wage increase for State employees (Bill No. 917). Later voted YES for a much watered-down bill.
- 9) Voted "NO" on Day Care centers for children of working mothers (Amend. to Bill No. 1079).
- 10) Voted "NO" on recreational and educational programs for the AGED, (Bill No. 2973). Later voted for a bill which cut the appropriation by 75%, crippling the program before it even began.
- 11) Voted "NO" on development of a pilot project for EDUCATIONAL TELEVISION (Amend. to Bill No. S1500).
- 12) Voted "NO" on regulation of finance companies, (Bill No. 2535). Aimed at curbing unscrupulous practices in the installment buying of ALL TYPES OF CONSUMER GOODS. Voted later for a wishy-washy bill which only applied to auto sales. A major defeat for the Consumer.
- 13) Voted "NO" on state power lines from the new St. Lawrence River development, which would have brought lower electric rates to your home and business (Bill No. 2155).
- 14) Voted "NO" on non-political Board of Regents.
- 15) Voted "NO" on expanding powers of State Committee Against Discrimination, (Bill No. 1451). Would have permitted the Committee to take positive action where it knew of violations of the law, and permit it to carry out investigations into discriminatory practices. The Assemblyman also voted to badly cripple the Committee by cutting appropriations for personnel and operating expenses.

Conference Set On Atom Use In State Industry

Albany, N. Y. Nov. 5 (AP) — A conference on industrial uses of atomic energy will be held Dec. 5 in Buffalo, the State Commerce Department announced today.

Commissioner Edward T. Dickinson said all manufacturers in the state have been invited.

Speakers on the program will discuss "radiation pasteurization of foods, the application of isotopes and a number of other subjects of importance to the progressive industrialist," he added.

The conference will be the second to be directed by Gov. Harriman's council on the use of nuclear materials, Dickinson said. Another was held in April in Troy.

The University of Buffalo, on whose campus the conference is to be held, and the Buffalo Chamber of Commerce are co-sponsors of the council.

Dickinson said the aim of the conference is to acquaint the industrialists with latest nuclear techniques and to provide a sounding board for the interchange of ideas.

Close Vote Expected

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 5 (AP) — Confusion beclouding the mood of Kentucky voters led today to the conclusion that extremely close balloting will mark tomorrow's election showdown. The confusion boiled up from two points: 1. New Republican strength, reflected in the proven popularity of President Eisenhower and supported by the appeal of two leading Republican vote-getters who are trying for the United States Senate. 2. Democratic weaknesses, reflected in an inability, or unwillingness, to treat the wounds of an old factional fight within the party.

U. S. Ship Leaves Crete

Athens, Nov. 5 (AP) — The United States troopship General Patch sailed from Crete early today for Naples, carrying some 1,800 American evacuees from the Middle East. The evacuees, including a number of babies and children, arrived in American 6th Fleet units which picked them up at Haifa and Alexandria.

Both Claim Victory

Chicago, Nov. 5 (AP) — The Illinois election race neared the finish line today as Republican and Democratic spokesmen voiced disagreement as to which party would dash under the wire in front. Edward F. Moore, Cook county (Chicago) Republican chairman, forecast victory for the entire GOP state ticket and said President Eisenhower would take the state by 500,000 votes and "at least 150,000 in Cook county." Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago, Cook county Democratic chairman, said his party's slate would win a 350,000 majority in the normally Democratic area. Daley said the enthusiasm displayed at a Saturday night rally for Adlai Stevenson at Chicago Stadium was one of the factors on which he based his prediction.

Steel Terms Announced

New York, Nov. 5 (AP) — Bethlehem Steel Co., announced today the terms of a new contract agreement with 15,000 workers at the firm's east coast shipyards. The three-year agreement was reached Friday night with the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America. No details were given then. Bethlehem said the agreement provides for wage increases averaging about 16 cents an hour for the first year, 8½ cents for the second and 8½ cents for the third. The union had sought a 28-cent hourly wage boost. Hourly wages ranged from $1.73 to $2.27 under the old contract.

What Candidates Are Doing

(By The Associated Press)

This is what the major party presidential and vice presidential candidates are doing today:

Today

President Eisenhower — In Washington. Makes closed circuit television talk to Republican rally in Boston (8:55 p. m. EST). Makes five-minute talk during hour-long GOP program on ABC, CBS and NBC television networks and CBS radio (11 p. m. EST).

Adlai E. Stevenson — Speaks at breakfast rally in Minneapolis; makes speech from Boston on CBS radio and television networks (10 p. m. EST).

Sen. Estes Kefauver — Campaigns in Ohio, then flies to Washington to speak briefly on radio-TV program with Stevenson (10 p. m. EST).

Vice President Nixon — In Washington, makes brief talk during GOP radio-TV program on which Eisenhower also appears (11 p. m. EST).

How Amendment Affects Those In '56 Election

Washington, Nov. 5 (AP) — Here's how the 22nd amendment to the Constitution, limiting presidential terms of office, could affect the four principals in tomorrow's election:

President Eisenhower — If re-elected, he could not again be elected President.

Adlai E. Stevenson — If elected, he could be reelected for another term in 1960 or later.

Vice-President Richard M. Nixon and Senator Estes Kefauver — Whichever is elected potentially could serve as President for a maximum of 10 years. If the President didn't serve at least half of his term, his vice president would finish out the term and could be elected president in his own right for one four-year term. If the President served more than half of his term, even one day more than half, his Vice President would finish out the term and could be elected President in his own right for two full four-year terms.

In effect, the amendment says no person can serve as President for more than 10 years or be elected President more than twice.

Hobart Woman Injured

Stamford, N. Y., Nov. 4 (AP) — Mrs. Naomi Odell of Hobart was injured fatally tonight in a two-car collision on Route 23 about three miles east of this Delaware county community. Her husband, Howard, was in critical condition at Bathgate Hospital here. Airman Richard Buel of Prattville in Greene county, the driver of the other automobile, was also on the critical list.

Hurley P-TA Schedules Meeting For Wednesday

The Parents Club of Hurley School will hold its second monthly meeting on Wednesday at 8 p. m. at the Hurley School. A film entitled "Shyness" will be shown.

This film deals with abnormal shyness among children, its causes and how, through greater understanding by parents and teachers, the problem may be solved.

Dr. Werner M. Cohn, Kingston psychiatrist, will be present to answer questions in connection with the film and emotional problems in children.

Mrs. Raymond Gilkey, president of the P-TA Council of Kingston, will be present to discuss the need for a Mental Health Clinic in Ulster County and how each individual may assist toward its establishment.

Charley Relyea, chairman of the Board of Supervisors in Hurley, will explain to the group plans already formulated for a Mental Health Clinic in the county.

Ernest Myer, school principal, will introduce the guests and act as moderator.

This will be an excellent program for persons who work with children and for those engaged in activities concerned with children. All parents are urged to be present, and any interested persons are cordially invited to attend the meeting.

The film is being shown through the cooperation of the Mental Health Committee in Ulster County, and the program is under the direction of Mrs. Gladys Byrne and Mrs. Dolores Bieber, co-chairmen of program committee.

Cross-Sheeley Nuptials Are Held

Miss Carol Rae Cross, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Maccholdt of Columbia street, became the bride of Roger Scott Sheeley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson S. Sheeley of Kyserike, Sunday, Oct. 21, 2:30 p. m. at the Marletown Reformed Church, Stone Ridge.

The bride's uncle is justice of the peace in the Town of Ulster. The Rev. Roy Adelburgh officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Ernest Schwarz was at the organ and Joseph Corrado sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

White chrysanthemums and gladioli decorated the church for the occasion.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Harold E. Maccholdt.

She wore a gown of white silk and lace styled with a silk bodice applied with lace which formed a shallow scoop neckline and short sleeves with silk mitts. The very full flared skirt of silk with a wide insert of lace formed a point in the round Chapel length train. Her fingertip length of white silk illusion veil was caught to a crown of seed pearls and sequins.

The bride carried a prayer book with white roses.

Miss Jean Kelder of Kripplebush was the maid of honor. She wore a gown of Cotillion blue nylon chiffon with draped neckline, shirred bodice and full gathered floor length skirt. She carried an old fashioned bouquet of pink roses.

Bridesmaids were Juanita Sheeley, sister of the bridegroom, Elaine L. Maccholdt, cousin of the bride. Their gowns were identical to that of the honor attendant except in autumn rose. They carried old fashioned bouquets of blue mums.

Thomas Neff of Kyserike was the best man. Serving as ushers were J. Ross Bunning of Long Island and Robert Kelder of Kripplebush.

Following the church ceremony, a reception was held in the Marletown Reformed Church hall for approximately 125 guests.

Mrs. Sheeley is a graduate of Kingston High School, class of 1954 and is employed by IBM in Kingston.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Ellenville High School, class of 1953. He attended New York State Agricultural Institute at Delhi and is employed by Vernon Barnhart and Son, Kripplebush.

For her wedding trip to Florida, the bride wore a gray dress, turquoise coat and black accessories.

The couple will make their future home in Kripplebush.

Mothers' Club
Mothers' Club of Immaculate Conception School will hold its regular monthly meeting Wednesday, 7:30 p. m., in the school hall.

Ellsasser Recital Is Exhilarating

The young American organ virtuoso, Richard Ellsasser, was presented at the Old Dutch Church Sunday afternoon in what can probably be called one of the finest organ concerts heard in Kingston in more than a decade. Hailed as the "Paganini of the organ," Ellsasser came as near as possible to proving this particular plaudits.

In addition to the pyrotechnics, the young organist showed remarkable skill and precision in some of the most demanding works of organ literature. His playing of the great Fantasia and Fugue in G minor by Bach and the Scherzo from Charles Marie Widor's Sixth Symphony in G minor, opus 42, left little doubt that this man is a master of his chosen instrument.

For sheer display, many in the audience awaited his Concert Study in D minor based on a theme by Pietro Yon, late organist of St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York. This study contains some three thousand pedal notes to be played in approximately three minutes. This was accomplished and as an immediate encore, Ellsasser played his "arrangement for feet" of Rimsky-Korsakov's "Flight of the Bumblebee."

Interpretation and feeling were not lacking for the afternoon's program, as one felt the gay dancing tunes of "Rondo in G" by the English composer John Bull; the ever lovely Mozart "Andante in F, K. 616"; and the organist's own improvisations on "Danny Boy" played as an encore which held the audience in rapt attention.

His registrations were marked with originality especially noticeable in Daquin's "Le Coucou." This was played in light airy melody line with the cuckoo calls kept softly birdlike but pronounced. Interesting was the impressionistic "Soul of the Lake" from Karg-Elert's "Seven Pastels."

This piece portrays a quiet summer day at Lake Constance, Switzerland. Serenity is broken by a sudden thunderstorm. Cesar Franck was represented by his Pastorale, opus 19; Vivaldi by Allegro Vivace from "Concerto in A minor"; and J. C. F. Bach by "Gigue Ronde."

The concert was performed informally. The atmosphere for more pleasant listening was set by the organist as he explained a bit about each composition prior to playing the number. The church organ on which the concert was played is a three manual Moller completely rebuilt last year.

Ellsasser is on a short eastern tour having arrived from the west coast Saturday. He will be heard with the Trenton Symphony and at St. Paul's Church, Englewood, N. J., and is scheduled for concerts in Texas, Portland, Oreg., and San Francisco by the end of the month. During the summer he was a faculty member at the workshop for choir directors and organists at Deerwood Music Camp in the

Rosendale Women To Hear Program About Diamonds

That diamonds are not only a girl's best friend but also an invaluable aid to present day telephone communication will be demonstrated to the Women's Club of Rosendale, by Mrs. Mabel I. Anderson of the New York Telephone Company Thursday, Nov. 8, at 8 p. m. at Mrs. Eugene Galvin's home.

In her talk entitled "Jewels for a Queen," Mrs. Anderson will display replicas of some of the world's most famous diamonds and will tell how the stones were named, legends associated with their ownership and the form of their present settings. She will also discuss the cutting of diamonds.

The role of the diamond in the telephone industry will be described by Mrs. Anderson. She will tell how industrial diamonds are used to reduce the size of telephone wire in plants of the Western Electric Company, manufacturing and supply unit.

Mrs. Anderson has been with the telephone company since 1928. Most of her service has been in the commercial department where she held positions of increasing responsibility, and is now a public relations assistant engaged in lecture-demonstration activities in the company's eastern division.

Active in women's work, she is a member of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs and the Altrusa Club of Albany. She is also a member of the Speakers' Bureau of the Albany County Civil Defense organization.

Mrs. Anderson is a native of Mechanicville. She attended public schools in Cohoes and is a graduate of the Allen School of Commerce in Troy.

Among the programs she presents before women's, men's and mixed groups are "Music in the Air," "Telephone Courtesy," "The Men on My Line" and "Your Voice Is You."

SEATING HUSBANDS AND WIVES

"When I have guests in for dinner I always seat husbands and wives opposite each other. A friend of mine resents this very much and thinks that husbands should be seated beside their own wives. Will you please tell me if I am wrong about this?"

You are quite right. It is true that I have been told that it is customary in some communities to seat husbands and wives together. This is incorrect. The pleasure of dining out is meeting and talking with others, not to sit next to your own husband or wife whom you talk with at every meal at home.

A Party Without Him

Dear Mrs. Post: Shortly after my friend was married, her husband who was in the service, was sent overseas. He is still there and his wife has been living with her mother. In this morning's mail I received an invitation from this friend's mother inviting me to a first anniversary party she was giving for her daughter. I was quite surprised to receive such an invitation and thought an anniversary party under the circumstances was very strange. I would like to know what you think about this.

Answer: I agree with you. This is more than strange. There ought not to be an anniversary party until her husband comes home.

Married to Doctor

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine recently married a doctor. I haven't met him as yet but will do so very soon. I would like to know if I should call him Dr. Jones when speaking to him, or would it be proper to call him John. I call her by her first name.

Answer: You will have to wait until you meet him. If he or his wife asks you to call him by his first name, you would; otherwise, you should call him Dr. Jones.

Receiving Line

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it necessary to shake hands with every member of a receiving line whether you know the person or not?

Answer: Yes.

Getting Child to Diet Means Teaching Her Self-Direction

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dressing after gym, Gloria, 14 years old and 27 pounds overweight, zipped up her skirt. Beside her a classmate, slim and more knowing, observed without malice: "You're too fat for that circular type skirt. Why don't you make your mother get you the gored kind?"

Home from school, discouraged Gloria devoured milk and gingersnaps until her mother protested. Then she burst into tears of helplessness and ran out of the kitchen.

Can we help Gloria?

Yes—if we stop begging her to take on the rewarding, but very lonely work of controlling her appetite.

Our appeals have no meaning whatever for her, simply adding to her discouragement. For Gloria's image of herself as a fat girl is so firmly lodged in her mind that she just cannot visualize herself as a slim one. So our demands that she become one make no sense at all.

This inability to believe in the reward of dieting's self-directing effort is her real problem. To solve it, we stop talking about the reward to her—and instead, lead our overweight youngster into actual rewarding experience with other forms of self-directing effort.

We make her begin to choose her own clothes. We encourage her to invite friends to meals she prepares herself. We encourage her to give herself a permanent. We propose that she paint her book shelves her favorite shade of blue.

In every possible way, we give Gloria opportunities to discover that looking to herself for strength can end in triumph for her. As she becomes increasingly used to the successful results of these lonely, unsupported efforts, the punishing image of herself as hopelessly fat begins to lose its tyrannical power over her. One day she herself suddenly decides to diet. She has finally found herself visualizing the triumphant end to this lonely effort, too.

If this makes no sense to you, remember we've got to know it's true to make it work. We've got to know that Gloria's extra poundage is not flesh but ignorance of her own capacity for lonely achievement.

That's all dieting is. It's a demonstration of our willingness to know our answers are in ourselves, not other people. It is the acceptance of our aloneness.

Series of Lectures Scheduled at Vassar

In honor of the Freud Centennial Celebration this year, a series of three lectures will be given at Vassar College, sponsored by the Departments of Child Study, English and Psychology, respectively, and open to the public.

The first lecture in the series will be given on Wednesday, Nov. 14 at 8:30 p. m. in Eloggett Hall by Otto Klineberg, professor of Psychology at Columbia University. He will speak on "The Application of Psychoanalytic Concepts to the Study of Children in Various Cultures."

Professor Klineberg, whose daughter Rosemary is a Vassar senior and whose wife is a Vassar alumna, has had anthropological training under Franz Boas as well as psychological training and hold an M.D. in addition to a Ph.D. He has served on several international research programs for UNESCO and other organizations. Professor Klineberg received the Butler Medal from Columbia University in 1950 and the Kurt Lewin Award of the Society for the Psychological Study of Social Issues in 1956 for his recent contributions to the field of social psychology. He is an authority on race differences as well as other topics in social psychology and the psychology of personality.

A second lecture, sponsored by the Department of English, will be announced later.

Dr. Gardner Murphy, research director of the Menninger Foundation, Topeka, Kans., will give the third lecture Monday, Jan. 7. Dr. Murphy will speak on the significance of Freud for contemporary schools of American psychology.

Cancer Was Removed

Washington, Nov. 5 (AP)—Cancer had infected a section of intestine removed from Secretary of State Dulles, it was disclosed yesterday. A State Department announcement said an examination at the time of the emergency operation Saturday, and X-rays later, indicated the malignancy had not spread beyond the diseased portions. Dulles' condition was described as "good" in the wake of the 2½ hour operation at the army's Walter Reed Hospital.

4-H CLUB NEWS

At a special meeting of the Ulster County 4-H Club Leaders and Agents Association held recently at the North Flatbush Reformed Church Hall, the group formulated plans for a drive for building funds for the Ulster County 4-H Club Camp, National 4-H Club Achievement Day, Nov. 10, was scheduled as the kick-off day of the drive. Receipt books to be used by 4-H Club members soliciting funds were distributed to the leaders present.

During the business meeting which was conducted by Mrs. Helen Larsen, president, other camp plans were discussed. Raymond Wheeler made a report on construction plans and was elected chairman of the construction committee. Edmund R. Bower, 4-H Club agent reported on the progress which has been made at the camp site and the swimming area.

It was announced that the annual 4-H Leaders' recognition dinner, sponsored by the commercial banks of Ulster county, will be held Nov. 3 at the Rosendale Grange hall.

Election Day Will Be Fair

Washington, Nov. 5 (AP)—The weather bureau today forecast fair weather for the major portion of the nation on Election Day.

The special National Weather Bulletin said: "Weather over the major portion of the nation will be fair for Election Day, with scattered rains confined to the center of the country from the upper Mississippi valley to the western gulf states and along parts of the north Pacific coast."

"Mild 60 and 70 degree temperatures are scheduled for the eastern third of the nation as well as in California and the far southwest."

"Thirty and 40 degree levels will persist over the Rockies where a few snow flurries are likely, while mercury columns reach into the 50s across the great plains and Pacific northwest."

"Warmest weather will be found in portions of Florida and the gulf states where 80s are indicated."

Nagy Is Mystery

Vienna, Nov. 5 (AP)—The whereabouts of Imre Nagy, the moderate Communist professor toppled from Hungary's premiership by the Russians, remained a mystery today. The rebels announced early in the fighting Sunday that Nagy was in a safe place. Later the Russians broadcast a declaration that they had captured him.

Big Storm Now In Open Atlantic

Miami, Fla., Nov. 5 (AP)—Hurricane Greta, now a "large and dangerous storm," spun northeast in the open Atlantic today with winds up to 135 miles an hour.

At 10 a. m. (EST) the season's seventh hurricane was near latitude 27.1 north and longitude 60.1 west or about 700 miles northeast of San Juan, Puerto Rico.

The great storm, with hurricane force winds extending 140 miles in the northern semicircle and 200 miles in the southern semicircle, was sweeping forward at about 34 mph.

Shipping interests—no land area is threatened—were advised by weather bureau forecasters to exercise "extreme caution" against this dangerous storm.

Northwest storm warnings were continued over the northern leeward islands.

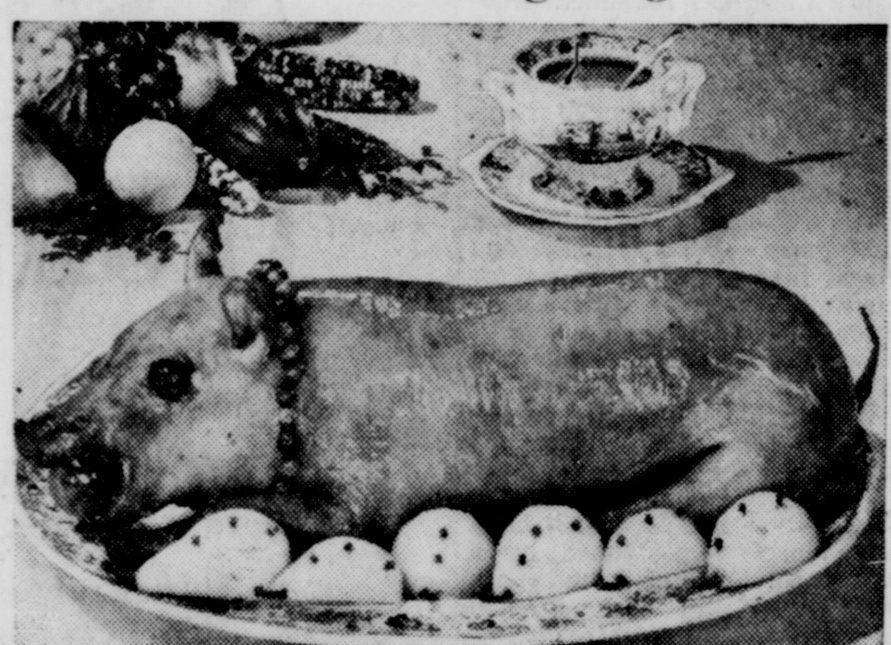

Greta showed considerable increase in intensity during the night and increased its forward motion. It was expected to continue northeastward during the next 12 to 24 hours.

Taylor Returning

Washington, Nov. 5 (AP)—The army said today Gen. Maxwell Taylor, its chief of staff, has cut short a Middle Eastern tour and is returning to Washington from Turkey because of "duty considerations."

Taylor has visited Italy, Greece and Turkey since leaving Washington Oct. 27. He had planned also to go to Iran, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, Pakistan, Ethiopia, the Sudan and Libya.

AMERICAN MENU Roast Pig Is a Delicacy Suitable for Thanksgiving

SYMBOLIC of the great feast, roast suckling pig is straight out of history, a luscious tradition of luxurious eating.

By GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Food and Markets Editor

Roast suckling pig with a cranberry necktie—seasoned with ground black pepper and garlic powder, plus spiced apple cider stuffing—there's a jolly dish for Thanksgiving dinner.

We enjoyed it at the "Old Sturbridge Dinner" given by the American Spice Trade Association to show food editors some 18th century back country New England spiced dishes.

Roast Suckling Pig With Apple Cider Stuffing
(Yield: Approximately 12 servings)

Wash a 12-pound suckling pig in cold water and wipe dry. Mix 1½ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon ground black pepper and 1/16 teaspoon garlic powder with which rub the inside of the pig.

Combine 3 quarts toasted bread cubes, ¾ cup dried onion flakes, ¼ cup dried parsley flakes, 1½ teaspoons crumbled whole thyme leaves, 1 tablespoon whole celery seed, 1 tablespoon salt and ¼ teaspoon ground black pepper. Add ½ cup melted butter or margarine and 1 cup apple cider and toss lightly. Stuff pig loosely. Skewer and lace opening to close it.

Wipe the outside of the skin and rub generously with 3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine. Place a block of wood in the pig's mouth to brace it for the apple which will be inserted later. Place on a rack in a large shallow pan in kneeling position. Pour in 2 cups boiling water and cover with aluminum foil. Roast in a preheated slow oven (325 degrees F.) 5 hours or until tender, basting every ¾ hour with the hot water in the pan. Add more water to pan if necessary.

Remove to a large serving tray or platter. Replace the wooden block with a small red apple. Insert a large marshmallow cherry in each eye socket. Place a cranberry necktie around the neck. Garnish platter with spiced fruit if desired. Keep warm while making gravy.

THANKSGIVING DINNER: Grapefruit sections and mint cup, roast suckling pig with cranberry necktie, apple cider stuffing, spiced pear garnish, gravy, sweet potato souffle, Brussels sprouts, corn sticks, butter or margarine, celery, cucumber sticks, radishes, green and ripe olives, deep dish apple pie with hard sauce or vanilla ice cream, coffee, tea, milk, nuts and raisins.

Ex-Guard Officer Dies

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 5 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Louis L. Babcock, a retired New York State National Guard officer, died today at his home. He was 87. General Babcock, an attorney here for 66 years, retired from the National Guard in 1919. He was a past president of the State Bar Assn. A native of Gowanda, Cattaraugus county, he was well-known in Buffalo for his interest in civic affairs, Niagara frontier history and tarpon fishing.

Slate New Talks On Paper Strike

Cleveland, Nov. 5 (AP)—Negotiators for the Cleveland Newspaper Guild and the city's three big daily newspapers meet again today (2 p. m., EST) in an attempt to reach agreement on new contracts.

Guild pacts with the Cleveland Press, the Cleveland Plain Dealer and Cleveland News expired at midnight last Wednesday. The guild went on strike immediately against the Press, an afternoon newspaper.

The Forest City Publishing Co. stopped publication of the afternoon Cleveland News and the Cleveland Plain Dealer, a morning paper, Thursday when truck drivers refused to deliver editions of those papers which also carried the nameplate of the Press.

Wages are the main issue blocking contract agreements.

The guild has asked increases ranging from $9 to $12.50 a week in a two-year contract. The Press management offered $5.50 to $10.50 shortly after the strike was called.

The old contracts called for a weekly minimum of $122.50 for newsmen with five years experience.

The guild represents about 400 editorial and commercial workers at the Press and about 300 at Forest City.

West Hurley

West Hurley, Nov. 5—A P-TA bake sale will be held at the West Hurley Firehouse all day Tuesday beginning at 9 a. m. Anyone with food may call 2933 or 422R1 and it will be picked up. Coffee and cake will be on sale at the firehouse. Members of the committee in charge are Mrs. Evelyn Seaman, chairman, James McCarty, Leslie Jenkins, Mrs. Clarence Green and Marion Rowe.

The King's Chorus will be presented at 8 p. m. Wednesday, Nov. 28, at West Hurley School, No. 5 under the auspices of the liberty committee. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the committee of which Mrs. James McCarty is chairman.

The ladies auxiliary of the West Hurley Fire Company held a Halloween costume party for grade school children. Members of the committee were Roberta Hogan, Vivian Van Vorst, Ruth Ostrander, Nancy Molyneux, Nettie Every and Elizabeth Hogan.

The Cub Pack held its first meeting October 27 at which time James Saxe and Raymond Smith graduated from Webelos to Boy Scouts in a simple and impressive ceremony. The den of Mrs. Sally Schmidt presented a play on animals and a puppet show with a Halloween theme. The den of Mrs. Ruth Hereth, under the direction of Mrs. Doris Glass, presented a puppet show and the den of Mrs. Jeannie Day and Mrs. Dorothy Ryan exhibited masks and seed collections completed during the month.

The Adult Music Class will meet Thursday at the school under the direction of A. J. Hommel.

A class in copper enameling will begin Thursday at 7 a. m. at the firehouse under the direction of the Home Bureau.

The P-TA will meet at 8 p. m. Tuesday, Nov. 27, with Henry Lampl, Kingston psychologist, as principal speaker.

Teachers Launch Campaign Dec. 1 Against Potsdam

Newly appointed basketball coach Dr. Charles Wolbers of New Paltz State University Teachers College lists four players and they will form the nucleus of this season's team which opens the season Dec. 1 against Potsdam.

Frank Buckley, Tom Murphy, John Hussnatter and Frank Couland are the letter-winners who Wolbers is counting on heavily to carry the burden. Buckley and Couland haven't actually turned out for drills, but seem certain to be ready for action when the season gets underway.

Buckley, who is currently practice teaching, was the team's second high scorer in '55 with 188 points and 11.8 average. Only record-breaker Bob Miller topped the Troy cager. Miller scored 344 points in smashing three school standards.

Hussnatter Third

Hussnatter wasn't far behind Buckley with 171 points and a 12.2 average. Murphy was sixth and Couland seventh on the team. Murphy tallied 91 points and Couland, who hails from Newburgh, 51, the latter's total being piled up in just six games after joining the squad in mid-season.

Bill Astle and Joe Cecere are the other returnees, but didn't play enough to earn a letter. Cecere scored 50 points while Astle was out most of the year with an ankle injury.

Saul Goldin, a transfer student from Long Island Aggies, has caught Wolbers' eye in practice and should bolster the team. He is a six-footer and lives in Ellenville. Wolbers said he is a good bet to start at one of the forwards.

Drills Under Way

Drills have been under way for about two weeks. Wolbers is a stickler for fundamentals and conditioning and has been emphasizing both in workouts. As yet, he hasn't held an organized scrimmage.

The Hawks maestro sums up his squad as a spirited group who will give foes plenty of fits before the season is over. He realizes that in most of the tilts the club will go in as the decided underdog, but envisions an upset or two, particularly on the small Paltz gym. One of the teams the Hawks would like to upend is Plattsburg which is rated as one of the top small college quintets in New York state.

Pizzeria Stops Packers In High Score Duel, 2-1

Phil Versace, the Bridge City hot shot has been the object of Tony's Pizzeria's affections for some time . . . through the travail of protests, charges and other stormy episodes.

He justified such yearning and longing for his presence with a 673 series as the Pizzeria drove across the tracks to upend the league leading Forst Formost's, 2-1 on alleys 7 and 8 at the Bowldrome.

It was a high powered duel with Tony's slamming 3072 on games of 977, 1031 and 1064 to Forst's 3068 on 1026-1021-1021. Versace's 673, via 182, 225 and 266 led a barrage of seven "600" triples. On his own side, Harold Broskie punched out 228-221-632 and Larry Weishaupt 218-222-632.

Tom Carlino bombed 230-235-657, Whitey Crispell 225-203-624, Buster Ferraro 214-224-629 and Larry Petersen 214-214-626 for the Packers.

Dairymen Take Two

Jones Dairy savaged a couple of games from Liberty Goodys on the mountain drives, with Jerry Oster's 204-564 high triple.

GI Joe's Express came a cropper against Poughkeepsie Inn, 2-1, in another low-scoring match. Best for GI Joe's was Ken Joseph's 217-577. Jim Lavery, who finished second in the All Star eliminations, led the Inn with 243-605.

West Orange, N. Y., Nov. 5 (AP)—Gordon Matthews of Chenango Bridge, N. Y., won a prize for driving the longest distance to the Eagle Rock Hill Climb Saturday. He drove 185 miles from his Broome county home in his 1918 Cadillac touring car. It was one of 82 antique cars in the event.

NFA Rips Beacon By 33-0 Count

Newburgh Free Academy's devastating backfield combination made a shambles of the Beacon defense as the Goldbacks breezed to a lopsided 33-0 victory Saturday at the Hilly City.

Billy Cotton, Al Beccaccio and Zeke McCurry riddled the Beacon defense and scored almost at will as NFA gained its fifth win in six games. Middletown and Kingston are the only two opponents left on the Newburgh slate.

Cotton got the Goldbacks off flying in the first period, racing 55 yards to paydirt. McCurry passed to Cotton for the extra point.

Beccaccio got into the act in the second period, scoring on a 45 yard pass play from quarterback Phil Conway. Beccaccio snared the ball on the 20 and romped the remaining distance. Just to confuse the Beaconites a little more, Cotton passed to McCurry for the extra point for a 14-0 halftime lead.

Newburgh was held scoreless in the third period but erupted for three TDs in the final quarter to turn the game into a rout. McCurry exploded 67 yards and shortly after Cotton whirled 65 yards for touchdowns No. 4 and 5. Conway heaved a 14 yard pass to Beccaccio to climax the fun.

Beacon was never in the game after getting to the NFA 12 in the first period. It marked the second loss for Beacon in six games. The Dutchess team hosts Kingston Saturday in its next start.

Hawks Hand Nats First NBA Defeat

(By The Associated Press)

For two years they've been saying Dolph Schayes of the Syracuse Nationals is going to have a new mailing address—but last night the eight-year National Basketball Assn. veteran showed why the Nats have quite a few qualms about trading their all-star forward.

Witness the Nats 78-76 loss to the St. Louis Hawks, which still left Syracuse in first place in the Eastern Division with a 3-1 record.

Schayes, consistently rumored to be returning to New York where he starred as a collegian at New York University, scored 28 points, accounting for more than one-third of the Syracuse scoring output. He also chipped in with 25 rebounds, one short of his own record for the Syracuse court.

While Schayes was fighting a losing one man cause, the Minneapolis Lakers took a 88-87 hard fought decision from Rochester and the New York Knickerbockers struck back in the second half to defeat Ft. Wayne 96-83.

Neither Knick coach Vince Boryla nor Piston coach Charlie Eckman was around at the end as Harry Gallatin, Carl Braun and Dick McGuire led a second half rally to overcome an 11-point deficit. Both were banished by Referee Arnie Heft. George Yardley was high for Ft. Wayne with 20 points. Kenny Sears had 17 for the Knicks.

League Unbalanced

Four Teams Dominate Races in NFL Divisions

(By JIM KENSIL)

(The Associated Press)

Every promoter's dream—a balanced league—is merely a wishful thought this pro football season.

With just about half the games in the record books after yesterday's (Sunday's) five-game card, the National Football League, despite inter-conference play, cannot even boast a balanced division.

Four of the 12 league teams hold 60 per cent of the victories, and two are in each conference. Furthermore, no other team has more wins than setbacks!

No One Kicking
Yet it's doubtful if you'll hear anybody kicking. Both conferences are featuring rousing two-team dogfights and 204-01 attended yesterday's games.

Detroit is the big winner among big winners. The unbeaten Lions, Western Conference leaders, grabbed off their sixth straight by topping the San Francisco 49ers 17-13 on the west coast.

Several hundred miles to the south the Chicago Bears stayed one game off the western pace with a 35-24 decision over the Los Angeles Rams. The Bears are 5-1 and haven't lost since opening day when Baltimore knocked them off 28-21.

Giants, Cards Tied

In the Eastern Conference, New York's Giants and Chicago's Cardinals remained deadlocked for the top at 5-1 as both checked in with triumphs over division opponents. The Giants edged the host Pittsburgh Steelers 17-14, and Chicago rolled over the visiting Philadelphia Eagles 28-17.

The Cleveland Browns broke a three-game losing streak and moved into a three-way tie for fourth in the east with a 24-7 upset of Green Bay's Packers at Milwaukee. Cleveland is now 2-4, as are the Eagles and Steelers.

Washington, idle yesterday, is third in the east with a 2-3 mark.

The Redskins, who meet the Baltimore Colts Dec. 23 in a game forcibly postponed by a Baltimore Stadium pact with the U. S. Naval Academy, had an extra week to get ready for the Lions next Sunday. The Bears have a game at home against Green Bay, but the Giants and Cards clash head-on at Yankee Stadium for eastern supremacy. The Cards whipped the Giants Oct. 7 at Chicago 35-27.

Colts Third
Baltimore (2-3) is third in the West followed by the Packers (2-4) and the Rams and 49ers (both 1-5).

That means the Lions, Cards, Bears and Giants have won 21 of the 35 games played. The Bears and Lions will have showdowns Dec. 2 at Detroit and Dec. 16 at Chicago.

Bethea Opposes Turner In Heavyweight Bout

By Jack Hand
(The Associated Press)
Wayne Bethea, young New York heavyweight who has beaten Ezzard Charles and Jimmy Slade and stopped Jamaica's Joe Bygraves in recent bouts, takes on Howie Turner, another newcomer, in Monday's 10-round match at St. Nicholas Arena in New York.

Turner will be making his first main event start after 21 preliminary bouts. Bethea has won six straight in his career record of 12-4-2. Turner's record is 17-1-3. The match will be carried on television (Dumont) at 10:30 EST.

Berrios At Garden

Miguel Berrios, a favorite with TV fans, returns to work Friday at Madison Square Garden against Gabriel (Flash) Elorde of the Philippines. Berrios, an earnest little Puerto Rican, won a split decision over Elorde Aug. 22, at San Francisco.

The 10-round match will be carried on television and radio (NBC) on the usual Friday series from the Garden.

Wappingers Falls Gridders Turn Back Highland, 20-6

Highland High School took a 6-0 lead in the first period, but then was held in check the rest of the way as Wappingers Falls Central scored a 20-6 triumph Saturday on the Falls gridiron.

The setback was the fifth against just two wins for the hard-luck Highlands who play Cardinal Farley Saturday in their finale. Wappingers is 4-2.

Highland TD
Dave Burdush connected with Bob Valentino for an eight yard scoring pass in the first period but that marked the visitors only scoring thrust. The rest of the game Highland spent trying to launch a successful scoring offense.

Jack Biasotti led a Wappingers surge in the second period that was capped by a 23-yard scoring dash by Harmon Boyd. Biasotti ate up 45 yards in seven cracks before Boyd skirted end. Roger Card plunged over for the extra point for a 7-6 margin.

Biasotti Scores
Biasotti shook loose on a 36-yard run in the third period for Wappingers second score. The attempt for the extra point was blocked.
Richie Longi went 22 yards with five minutes left in the game for the clinching TD. Boyd bucked over the point after touchdown.

Highland's best threat after its TD was in the second quarter when Ed Sagarese whirled to the Fallsmen's 38, but there the march bogged down.

Leaders Score in 'Y' League

Blacktops ripped Accord, 96-70 and Harry's Angels trimmed Wimpy's, 72-54, in YMCA basketball action Saturday night.

The victory for Harry's Angels was its sixth straight and kept them atop the 'A' league standing. The Blacktops pace the 'B' circuit with a 5-1 mark.

Champ Holstein's 24 points and Larry Tice's 15 led the Angels' win. Bud Smith of Wimpy's topped everyone with 23.

Butch Tomaseski rimmed 34 points in leading the Blacktops' success while Dan Simmons shipped in with 16. George Sheely's 28 points was the best effort on both teams. Ebert tallied 19 and Andy Anderson 17.

Comedy Catch

Omaha (AP)—A jeep-load of police crashed through a Missouri river willow jungle into a clearing where an alleged dice game was in progress. What happened next, said Morals Squad Sgt. Walter Wilson, "was better than a Hollywood comedy." "Everybody was running and so were we," he related. "We would grab a couple, handcuff them to a big willow and start running again. When I stopped for breath and looked back, there were guys on trees all over the place. When the paddy wagon came we had a heck of a time finding the right keys to get them unhooked."

Pioneers Win, 13-9

Poughkeepsie High school snapped the 17-game unbeaten string of Vincentian High of Albany, 13-9, Saturday at the Bridge City in the Pioneers' grid finale of the year.

Sophomore Deke Johnson shone in the upset victory, scoring the winning touchdown and playing heads-up defensive ball. His performance sparked Sam J. Kaloch's eleven to their third win against two losses and a tie.

Johnson scored the payoff TD on a pass from Bruce Stickler in the third period. The play covered 31 yards.

Poughkeepsie got the opening jump in the first period when Ronnie Levine tossed 12 yards to end Ronnie Dorsey. Levine kicked the extra point.

The Lions only TD came in the last quarter on a sensational 76 yard pass play from Mike Breslin to halfback Tom Dillon. Dillon plunged over for the extra point.

Vincenian's two other points came on a safety when Levine was tackled in the end zone trying to move the ball out of danger.

Johnson's defensive heroics came in the final period when Vincentiana made a desperate bid to keep its undefeated streak intact. He intercepted two passes and knocked down a third on the goal line to cap the greatest game of his infant grid career.

Gen. Mariles Cops 4th Event In Horse Show

New York, Nov. 5 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Humberto Mariles and his mount, Chihuahua II, are threatening to make the National Horse Show at Madison Square Garden a Mexican spectacular.

Gen. Mariles scored two victories for the Mexican equestrian team yesterday, giving the south of the border competitors their fourth success. He has won three events himself.

Riding his 8-year-old chestnut gelding, Gen. Mariles captured the Pennsylvania National Trophy event for the second consecutive year, and added the $1,000 International Jumping Stake.

In the Pennsylvania event, the General bested two other riders who completed the nine-jump course without a fault with a best time of 34.1 seconds. In the International Stake, he again had to go into a jump off to beat two competitors after they had tied on the 12-jump course. His time for the short-couraged seven-jump test was 30.9 seconds.

In the first event, he defeated runnerup Lieut. Thomas Moroney of Ireland third-place finisher Julio Herrera of Mexico. In the $1,000 test, Gen. Mariles outlasted Tom Gayford of Canada and Lieut. Patrick J. Kernan of the Irish army team.

Limited Exits

Saint John, N. B. (AP)—Civil Defense Director E. M. Slader says an evacuation plan for this city of 60,000 cannot be adequate until there is at least one more exit. Two bridges, at the eastern and western end of the city, provide the only evacuation routes at present.

Conference Title at Stake

Tennessee, Georgia Tech In Showdown Duel Saturday

(The Associated Press)

Tennessee, which has won more football games than any school in the country during the past quarter of a century, is back in familiar surroundings near the top of the heap this year scrambling for the Southeastern Conference championship and a post-season bowl plum.

Since Gen. Bob Neyland quit coaching at the end of the 1952 season, the Vols have been having their troubles. In the next three years, they won only 16 games and lost 13, barely keeping their heads above water.

Majors Standout

But thanks mainly to the talents of tailback John (Drum) Majors and an imposing list of 19 other lettermen from last year, the Vols have waded through a half-dozen opponents so far in quest of their first undefeated, untied season since 1951 when they won the national championship.

There's a villain lurking in the shadows, though, in Georgia Tech, Tennessee's No. 1 rival for the conference championship. The Engineers, likewise, have polished off a half-dozen opponents, giving up only four touchdowns in the process.

The two teams meet in Atlanta this week and to the victor no doubt will go the Southeastern crown. Tennessee warmed up to the task Saturday with a routine 20-0 victory over North Carolina, while Georgia Tech, second ranked behind Oklahoma in last week's Associated Press poll, edged Duke, 7-0.

Frustrating Experience

No matter who wins, it will be a frustrating experience, for neither has any hopes of getting past Oklahoma in the national rankings. The hulking Sooners won their 36th game in a row, a come-from-behind 27-19 decision over Colorado, the only team left on their schedule which was rated a problem.

Oklahoma was down, 19-6, at the half, but the Sooners woke up and scored three touchdowns in the second half to wrap it up.

Colorado, which can nail down second place in the Big Seven if it gets past Missouri this week, is all but certain to get a bid to the Orange Bowl. The Sooners played in the Orange Bowl last year and Big Seven rules prohibit the same team from making the trip to Miami two years running.

Clemson on Top

At the moment Clemson is leading the Atlantic Coast Conference which supplies the other Orange Bowl team. Duke still has an outside chance but Maryland, the perennial contender, is just another has-been this year. The Terps lost again Saturday to Kentucky, 14-0.

Oklahoma, Georgia Tech and Tennessee, incidentally, form three-fifths of the remaining major unbeaten. Wyoming, which wrapped up the Skyline title with a 21-0 victory over Utah State, and Princeton, which walloped Brown, 21-7, are the others.

Minnesota vs. Iowa

The Big Ten's Rose Bowl team should be determined after Saturday's clash between Minnesota and Iowa. The Gophers will be favored on the basis of their 9-4 nonconference triumph over Pitt while the Hawkeyes were being bounced from the unbeaten list by Michigan, 17-14.

Elsewhere, Syracuse tied the Eastern title in a neat package as a result of its 13-9 decision over Penn State. Navy's 33-7 victory over Notre Dame, its first in a dozen years, made this the losingest of all Irish teams . . . after 27 years, Lou Little sent his final Columbia team onto the Baker Field turf and the Lions gave their retiring coach a happy memory—a 25-19 victory over Cornell.

Rondout Wins Grid Finale, 35-7

Rondout Valley Central school (formerly known as Kerhonkson High) blasted Tri-Valley of Grahamsville, 35-7, to complete its second straight football season unbeaten Friday in an eight mau contest.

Halfback Bill Smith ran wild in the finale before the home folks, scoring three touchdowns on runs of 15, 40 and 10 yards. Jarrin John Mustion went over from the three on a quarterback sneak and Art Stockin turned end for 20 yards to round out the touchdown parade. Mustion kicked three extra points and plunged over for a fourth. Smith tallied the other point after touchdown on a plunge.

Stopped Cold
The visitors were held in check throughout and didn't score until the final period.

Coach Chick Meehan was, of course delighted with the victory which was his club's fifth along with a tie. Prior to yesterday, all the other tilts were six-man contests.

The blocking of Smith, Art Stockin and Mustion was one of the high spots in the game. The latter pair along with Tom Gilman, Darrell Johnson and Mike Osterhoudt were making their final grid appearance for the school.

Rondout Valley lineup:
Right end, Bill Mustion.
Right tackle, Cairo.
Center, Mike Osterhoudt.
Quarterback, John Mustion.
Right halfback, Art Stockin.
Reserves: Wustrau, Decker, Sherman, Wise, Blake, J. Smith, Johnson, Friedman.

Score by quarters:
Tri-Valley 0 0 0 7-7
Rondout 7 7 14 7-35

Ants in Pants

Bakersfield, Calif. (AP)—Procedure was held up in superior judge Warren Stockton's court for an emergency. The witness protested he had ants in his pants. Deputy Sheriff Tommy Gallon, a prosecution witness began slapping at his legs and lower body. The court interrupted to inquire the reason. Inspection showed—sure enough—a veritable army of little red ants had taken possession. They had invaded Gallon's clothing before he was aware of their presence.

U. S. Olympians Off to Melbourne

Los Angeles, Nov. 5 (AP)—Quietly and without fanfare the first group of U. S. Olympic team athletes walked down a concourse at Los Angeles International Airport last night and boarded a plane for Australia.

No bands played. No speeches were made. The only attempt at ceremony was when a stewardess broke a bottle of champagne against the sleek hull of the Pan American airliner—and that was for a publicity picture.

Among the group of 64 were members of the canoeing and wrestling teams, Tug Wilson, president of the U. S. Olympic Committee and other officials.

At the airport a small knot of perhaps 25 friends and relatives visited with the athletes. Six other flights, carrying the remainder of the 450 team members and officials are scheduled to leave Los Angeles before next Sunday.

The planes lay over some 30 hours in Honolulu before continuing on to Melbourne by way of the Fiji Islands.

Members of the track and field squad leave tonight and tomorrow. Rowing, weight lifting and water polo squads leave Wednesday and shooting, boxing, cycling, gymnastic and some swimming team members take off Thursday.

Most of the swimmers and the yachting team leave Friday with the basketball and field hockey squads departing Sunday. The soccer team left more than a week ago for exhibition matches down under.

The games start Nov. 22 and the entire squad arrives back in Los Angeles Dec. 6 through 11.

Jayvees Cop Grid Finale, 25-6

Halfback John Parete starred for the Kingston High school jayvees as the Maroons routed Hunter-Tannersville varsity, 25-6, Friday in their football finale of the season at Dietz Stadium.

Parete ran for two touchdowns as the Maroons posted their third win to go along with two setbacks. Both jaunts were for 15 yards. The first came on a quick opener in the opening period and the other on an end sweep in the third quarter.

Kingston lineup:

Center, Sammons.
Right guard, LeFever.
Right tackle, Bjaelker.
Right end, Welwood.
Quarterback, McDonough.
Fullback, Cragan.

Reserves: Beadle, Cullum, Dietz, DiPietro, Every, Keiser, Letus, Peck, Reilly, Shaver, Vendetti, Wyman.

Score by quarters:
Kingston 12 6 7 0-25
Tannersville ... 0 0 0 6-6

Tom Cragan scored the first Kingston TD on a quick opening play from the 20. Tony Uhl broke off tackle in the second quarter for eight yards for KHS's other score.

The visitors were bottled up in their own zone most of the afternoon. They tallied in the last quarter on a recovered fumble after punting out of their end zone. Uhl lost the ball after slipping on the muddy turf and a Tannersville player picked off the leather and raced some 60 yards to paydirt.

Extra Point
The only point after touchdown was scored on a pass from Jerry McDonough to Paul Wel-

Still Unbeaten

Massena, N. Y., Nov. 5 (AP)—Massena High School has gone unbeaten in 54 successive football games. The school began the string in October, 1949. The latest victory was 40-14 over Canton Central Saturday in the 1956 season windup for Massena. The record includes 53 wins and one tie.

How the new law will affect New York motorists...how it may affect You!

John got his '57 Plates... Joe didn't...Here's Why!

John got his 1957 license plates and registration certificate with no trouble at all. Why? Because his Certificate of Insurance, required under the new law, was completely and accurately filled out. John's insurance is handled by a Kemper Approved Insurance Advisor. Supplying John with a complete and accurate Certificate of Insurance was easy for an insurance man giving this type of personalized service the year around.

Joe didn't get his 1957 plates because, although he had a Certificate of Insurance, it wasn't right. Joe's insurance company, many miles away, didn't have the latest information about him. Eventually, of course, Joe got his plates and registration certificate—with considerable delay and inconvenience.

The moral of this story is: Why carry "self-service" insurance and "do-it-yourself," when your KAIA will give you the experienced personalized service that is so important. He's a neighbor of yours. And, the net cost of your insurance may be no more, and is often less than the cost of "self-service" insurance.

See your nearest KAIA Agent immediately — get the official New York State Booklet that explains the new law fully. Find out what KAIA personalized service means in complying with the new law. And be sure to ask him about the dividend savings being paid to our policyholders.

It's a Kemper Approved Insurance Advisor's responsibility to help you (his policyholder) comply with the new insurance law. To protect yourself completely, have your KAIA interpret the meaning of the new law as it affects you. If you are unable to see your KAIA Agent in person — use the coupon below to order a copy of the free, official New York State Booklet.

Half Billion Is Given Schools in Federal Areas

Washington, Nov. 5 (AP)—The federal government has paid out well over half a billion dollars since 1950 to aid school districts in "federally impacted areas."

The term applies to sectors where school enrollments are swollen by federal activities, such as military installations.

Total spending at the end of the 1954-55 school year was approximately 660 million dollars, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) said in its report on federal funds for education.

May Hit 200 Million
Figures for the 1955-56 school year are not yet in, but are expected to be in the neighborhood of 200 million dollars.

Of the 660 million dollars paid to school districts in 1954-55, HEW said about 271 million went for assistance in the maintenance and operation of schools, and 392 million for construction of new school facilities.

California has been the biggest beneficiary under the school program and that state received $57,358,523 in construction funds over the five year period—nearly double the next highest amount which went to a single state. This was Virginia, with $28,948,245.

How States Fared
The five-year total by states on grants for operation and maintenance of schools in federally impacted areas was not given by HEW, but for the 1953-54 school year, California received $13,135,753 as compared to Virginia's next highest allotment of $5,095,785.

HEW gave a breakdown by states of the total of construction funds disbursed to federally impacted districts from the beginning of the 1950-51 school year through the 1954-55 year. The states included:

Connecticut $4,201,907.
Maine $1,373,451.
New Hampshire $27,064.
New York $7,907,170.
Rhode Island $1,469,193.
Vermont $185,111.

Rider, Horse Die In Traffic Mishap

A runaway horse and two cars were involved in an accident Sunday at the junction of Route 20 and Mill Road, New Lebanon, Columbia county, resulting in the death of a 14-year-old New Lebanon boy and the horse he had been riding.

Lloyd MacKenzie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman MacKenzie of Mill Road died instantly when he was thrown to the pavement as the horse, apparently panicked and collided with a car operated by Philip F. Pratt, 24, of New Lebanon. The Pratt car struck another vehicle operated by James Fosby, 24, Chatham, which was stopped in the center lane to make a left turn into Mill Road.

The horse, owned by a neighbor of MacKenzie, entered the intersection at a full gallop, state police reported, struck the car throwing the lad to the pavement and the horse was thrown onto the hood of the car and over the top of the vehicle. Occupants of the car were not injured.

PORT EWEN NEWS

Local Schools Will Be Open Election Day

Port Ewen, Nov. 5—Both schools of Common School District 1 will be in session on Tuesday, Election Day, according to an announcement by Robert Graves, principal. Port Ewen schools have been on half day sessions prior to the opening of the new school scheduled for some time in December.

Auxiliary Announces Veteran Gift Shop

Port Ewen, Nov. 5—The Auxiliary of Town of Esopus American Legion Post 1298 has started collecting gifts for the veterans at Veterans' Administration Hospital, Albany according to Mrs. William Bittner, publicity chairman.

The funds and gifts which the Auxiliary collects are forwarded to the gift shop maintained at the hospital. The gift shop project provides a place where the veterans of the hospital may choose gifts at no cost for their families. After the gifts are chosen, they are gift wrapped and packaged for mailing. Postage is also provided.

The program is made possible through the combined efforts of American Legion Auxiliary units throughout the state, Mrs. Bittner said.

Mrs. John Spinnenweber, chairman of the rehabilitation committee said, "Isn't it nice to know that while we are at home enjoying Christmas with our loved ones, these men who gave so much for us are able to remember their loved ones even though they can't be at home with them."

Any merchant, local organization or individuals who would care to contribute to this project may do so through any Auxiliary member, Mrs. Spinnenweber said.

The Auxiliary will hold its regular monthly meeting at the Legion Home Tuesday at 8 p. m. Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Mildred Burns and Mrs. May Dempsey. All members are requested to bring articles for the Veterans' Christmas gift shop project.

Deer Is Struck

Louis Neufeld, 9, of Ellenville, reported to Ellenville state police that he struck a deer on Route 209 about a mile north of Wawarsing early Friday night. He said he was proceeding south when the deer ran in front of his car from the east side of the highway. The deer, which was struck in the hind quarters, ran into the woods and could not be found, he reported.

Proclaims Veterans' Day

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 5 (AP)—Gov. Harriman today designated Nov. 11 as Veterans Day in New York state. Harriman said that Americans owed a great debt to war veterans "for the numberless sacrifices they made in so valiantly fighting to preserve our heritage and freedom of independence and secure our national defense."

Arrived in a Huff

Middlesboro, Ky. (AP)—A fire was reported in the carburetor of an automobile. The fire truck sped across town with its siren blasting. Pulling to a stop near the automobile firefighters jumped off the truck, ready for action. Then Fireman Pete Marsee went into action. He ran to the blaze, huffed, puffed and blew the fire out.

Synagogues Plan Peace Prayers, Mid-East Talk

The three Jewish synagogues of Kingston will join in a service of prayer for peace and a discussion of the Middle East crisis next Sunday, Nov. 11, Veterans' Day, at Temple Emanuel, at 8:30 p. m.

Announcement of the service was made today by Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom, Ph.D., of Temple Emanuel.

Rabbi Jacob I. Rubenstein of Congregation Ahavath Israel and Rabbi H. Z. Rappaport of Congregation Agudas Achim also will take part in the service.

Following the service, an open discussion will be held on the crisis now gripping the Middle East nations.

The public is invited to attend both portions of the program.

See Williams In

Detroit, Nov. 5 (AP)—Republican efforts to halt Gov. G. Mennen Williams' march toward an unprecedented fifth straight term headlined state election battles in Michigan today. Statewide polls conducted by two Detroit newspapers indicated another Williams victory, this time over Mayor Albert E. Cobb of Detroit. At the same time, pollsters predicted President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon would carry the state. Their margin four years ago was a whopping 325,000 out of a total vote of 2,798,592.

LAST CALL

Nothing you can do in your role as a citizen is more important than voting.

"Suppose everybody stayed home Election Day?"

Bandleader Slugged

San Francisco, Nov. 5 (AP)—Bandleader Stan Kenton said today six young toughs slugged him and trombonist Bob Fitzpatrick at a downtown hamburger stand early yesterday. Kenton said the two blows he received did not injure him. Fitzpatrick suffered bruised ribs and did not play the Sunday show at a night club.

Didn't See Elvis

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 5 (AP)—Gloria Bittman, 15, heads for her Newburgh, N. Y., home today without having realized the goal of her trip here—a glimpse of Elvis Presley. Police found the girl in a bus station last night and turned her over to juvenile court officials. Presley was visiting his parents' in their Memphis home.

many, Sweden, the Netherlands, Italy and Denmark.

Austrian Interior Minister Oskar Helmer and Roman Catholic Archbishop Franz Koenig of Vienna toured refugee camps yesterday, however, were barred Clothing, food and other supplies were rushed to the camps. Many of the refugees were women and children who had fled in scanty clothing. There was a frantic emergency call for nursing bottles for infants.

Helmser said that his appeal for Austrian families to take in Hungarian refugees had resulted in many acceptances. The Netherlands and Sweden telegraphed and volunteered to take in refugees and Sweden telegraphed it is ready to give shelter to Hun-

Urges Vote for Ike

Secaucus, N. J., Nov. 5 (P)—Henry Krajewski, American third party candidate for President, has urged his followers to vote for the reelection of President Eisenhower because of world conditions. President Eisenhower, he said in a statement yesterday, is "the only candidate who can give freedom to countries behind the Iron Curtain because he has had the experience as commander in chief of the American armies." Krajewski is not withdrawing. His name appears on the ballot in New Jersey only.

Heads Cornell Alumni

Ithaca, N. Y., Nov. 5 (P)—Walter K. Nield of New York City has been elected president of the Cornell Alumni Assn. He succeeds John F. P. Farrar of Chicago. Nield is a vice president of Young and Rubicam, an advertising agency. His election was announced yesterday by the association.

Mild Weather Due For Next Five Days

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 5 (P)—The extended weather forecasts for New York state, prepared by the U. S. Weather Bureau, for the period from 7:30 p. m. today to 7:30 p. m. Saturday.

Eastern New York—The weather will continue mild mostly dry during the 5-day period, Monday night through Saturday. Temperatures will average 4 to 8 degrees above normal, with no major changes from day to day. Precipitation will average less than ¼ inch, with a chance for scattered showers about Friday or Saturday.

Western New York—Continued mild weather is indicated with temperatures averaging 8 to 9 degrees above normal. Generally fair and mild until about the weekend, when a turn to cooler with showers is likely. Less than ¼ inch of rain is expected.

Temperature normals—Normal highest daytime temperatures at this time of year for upstate New York range in the upper 40s to middle 50s. Normal overnight lows range in the low and middle 30s.
